SOCCER WEEK POOLS GUIDE FOR SEPTEMBER 28

Results for Saturday, 14th September, were incredible in having so many no-score draws, NINE of them in fact and only FIVE score draws. I did however, get four of them for you.

I cannot see past the First and Second Divisions for my NAP HAND so here they are: Birmingham v Arsenal, Chelsea v Wolves, Bolton v Notts County, Millwall v Bristol City and Orient v Sheffield Wednesday.

This does not mean that the remainder are chanceless, and I can see a likely second best NAP HAND in Colchester v Walsall, Grimsby v Aldershot, Barnsley v Newport, Worthing v Exeter and Clydebank v Forfar.

I am confident that form will prove more reliable for the next four weeks. What a pity the only competition is the Treble Chance now.

I reckon the 4 Aways and the 4 Draws would have rated highly in my tips, for September 28th. Good luck.

Mr N. C. of Traralgon. I can answer your query IN FULL, sorry I did not have the information earlier. You can give or send your coupons several ways.

Firstly, through a Subscribers Agent, which is the more personal method. This method would suit interstate friends also. In Victoria every Tattersalls agency will handle your needs.

You may also mail direct to Australian Soccer Pools in Melbourne. You will find subscribers agents operating throughout Victoria, and these people will call at your home on request.

Your queries will be answered in "Soccer Week" on anything connected with Soccer Pools, if you write to me c/o Box 134 PO KEW, 3101.

SPORT HAS ITS ROMANTIC FEATURES

The story of Soccer Football can never be told without inspiring within us a pride of achievement, a sense of respect for those who have gone before, and a better understanding of the needs of youth. There is a wealth of romance in the story of how the world's greatest and most popular sport evolved.

The process of experimentation, of trial and error, has grown into a wonderful exercise for mind and body. Football history began on October 26th, 1863 in the Freemasons' Tavern, Lincoln's Inn Fields in London. Eleven clubs met to form the Football Association.

The clubs were: Kilburn, Barnes, War Office, Crusaders, Forest, Percival House, Crystal Palace, Blackheath, Kensington School, Surbiton and Blackheath Prep School.

The forerunners of today's mighty Football Association set to work to establish a code of laws for the game.

THE F.A. CHALLENGE CUP

The decision to establish an F.A. Challenge Cup was made at a meeting held on the 2nd of July, 1871. All member clubs were invited to compete. It was decided that the Cup should not cost more than 20 pounds.

In the first year of the Cup, 15 entries were received. By 1876 the total had risen to 37. During this year, whilst it was in the possession of Aston Villa, the original Cup was stolen from a sports outfitters shop in Birmingham. Although a reward of 10 pounds was offered, the Cup was never recovered.

The F.A. Cup competition really set football on its speedy climb to national popularity. It was not long before the County associations started affiliating themselves to the F.A. By 1885, 29 county organisations belonged to the association.

THE AMATEUR CUP

The F.A. did not neglect the amateurs, however, although it was obvious that the elements of amateurs and professionals would need to be conducted separately.

A revolutionary change was the introduction of the F.A. Amateur Cup Competition in 1893. In that year the entries totalled 81.

CONTINUED NEXT WEEK

BITS AND PIECES

Transferred players get the limelight this week. Peter Osgood, from Chelsea, did not take long to prove his value at Southampton.

His two goals against Portsmouth brought smiles to Southampton's directors. As forecast three weeks ago, Asa Hartford cleared from West Bromwich to Manchester City at the beginning of the season, proved his true value against Liverpool by pressuring the 'pools' defence into errors.

Seven minutes to go at Burnley, and Leeds were down 1-2, when Ray Hankin of Burnley and Gerry McQueen of Leeds were caught in the act, so it is possible that both clubs will be minus their services for a week or so. Leeds will be feeling the drought of senior players the most, I fancy.

Two off and four booked in the Celtic v Rangers tussle. The second half was won by Rangers by forceful methods. Scottish referees seem to have decided that their pencil is mightier than their words, as this season is producing an overabundance of bookings. Time was when Scottish referees could handle the most vigorous of play, and Scottish football was always that, but then I feel that controlled self-discipline has gone, both on the field and on the terraces.

Aldershot, over-anxious to play John Frankie, formerly of Bournemouth, put him in the team a day too soon when they played Gillingham on the 14th of September. Aldershot were fined 200 pounds and lost the point they gained in a nil all draw.

Italian bombshell. New Coach Bernardini has dropped Rivera and Mazzoli from the national side. He is concentrating on youth for the International versus Yugoslavia on 28th September, and is not satisfied with Rivera's fitness or the type of mid-field player Mazzoli has developed into.

So Dave Mackay will stay at Derby after all, whilst Neill, the coach of Northern Ireland's national side, takes over at White Hart Lane to prove that he is capable of putting new life into Spurs. The old-fashioned game of musical chairs lives on, to keep us on our toes in keeping up with the changes.

Brian Clough, his very name breathes fire and brimstone, has made the headlines on many occasions over the years, is back at the beginning once more. The question is, where does he go from here? Back to Brighton to complete his contract there, or pastures new.

The Leeds management may have exercised a way out of their coming legal challenge by the Brighton club for 75,000 pounds, but I am informed that the F.A. may still want some answers.

The sacking came after two not very successful deals with Derby for O'Hare and McGovern who both lost their reputations, and have been dropped to the Reserves these last two weeks. Forty three days could be a record short stay.

Poland's reputation took another knock last week, when France defeated them very comfortably by 2 goals to nothing.

Australian Soccer Pools have been impressed with the number of enthusiastic volunteers who have come forward with full experience with the English Pools. Subscribers agents could still be required, so get in early if you feel that you have the qualifications. Box 99A, G.P.O. Melbourne, 3000.

IN HOROSCOPIA

This week we look at the horoscope of Steve Perryman, who is Sagittarius (born between November 23 and December 21). This well known Spurs player loves the Great Outdoor life, is a born sportsman. Sagittarians also have great reasoning power ... which certainly helps in a fast moving game like football. His lucky stone is the Turquoise.

ON SIDE WITH STEPHEN KALUS

I WILL stick to my prediction that it's HELLAS for the 1974 flag. With only two rounds to go S.M. Hellas is on top of the ladder with a 2 point lead and a first class goal average. In the remaining games Hellas has to play Polonia and Juventus and even if the Middle Parkers drop 2 points and Alexander will collect four points from the remaining games against Wilhelmina and Polonia, Hellas will clinch the title with a better goal average.

Last year's premiers, Footscray/JUST, made a bid far too late, collecting four points within 3 days (against Slavia and Melbourne), but their place in the "four" is safe. Slavia, George Cross and with a minimum chance Hakoah will now fight out for the fourth place in the Rothmans State League ladder.

ULYSSES Kokkinos, the Greek star forward, made sure that he will celebrate with his teammates the 1974 premiership with 2 splendid goals. His first goal from a free kick was a gem, and in the second Ulysses had to use the best of soccer tricks to draw O'Hara out of goal and lob the ball over his head into the net.

WHO WILL win the 1,000 dollars offered by Courage Breweries? Jim Armstrong was nearly ready to collect the cheque when given by his teammates a golden opportunity to score against Slavia 10 minutes before the end of the game, but missed. Jim and Paul Murphy are sharing the top of the list with 17 goals.

MIKE MICEWSKI, last season's star recruit, found his way between the sticks, scoring his first goal for Hakoah in 20 games. Mike, to whom I spoke last Friday, was very upset with the form of the team and the forwards and his own lack of concentration in front of goal. But on Saturday it was a different day for Mike. He not only scored the first goal for his club, but also helped Poncho Donato to beat Kestner for the winning goal.

IT WAS a real bonanza last Sunday. Sixteen goals in four State League games is a record for the season. And Jim Barker, who was announcing progress scores from other grounds at Middle Park did not have a minute's rest. The phone did not stop ringing, keeping Jim very, very busy.

MR ROBERT NESFIELD and Peter Malin, executives of the Australian Soccer Pools, are right on the ball with the preparation for the first coupons for Australian customers based on English games to be played on Saturday the 26th of October. Last week at the Sheridan Hotel Mr Peter Malin conferred with the first group of agents from all over Victoria and Mr Robert Nesfield, the general manager of the Australian Pools, was interviewed on HSV7's World of Sport by Fred Villiers and explained to viewers the simplicity of entering the coupons. Also, a big publicity and promotion campaign will start soon and every house will get coupons in a huge mailing action. And the beauty of entering the soccer pools coupons is that you don't need to check the results of the games. Each coupon will be checked and re-checked by a special type of computer handled by specially trained staff. The directors of Australian Soccer Pools also announced that winners of more than $25,000 will be paid within a fortnight and smaller amounts within 7 days. So all you soccer fans, look forward to receiving your coupons and try your luck to win a fortune.

IAN TOMASZEWSKI was the Best Player on the Ground in the game Poland-Finland played in Helsinki and won by Poland 2-1. Goalscorers for the Polish team were Gadocha and Lato. The match-a-quarter-final of the European championship was the first international game played by Poland after a very successful start in the final of the World Cup.

THIS YEARS semi-final of the Dockerty Cup will be played at Olympic Park on the 6th of October. In a double header Fitzroy United will play Wilhelmina and Hellas will play JUST. The draw was made last Saturday at Middle Park by the chairman of the VSF Mr Michael Weinstein.

SO WE WERE rejected by the Asian Football Confederation, but don't you worry soccer fans! We will still be seeded in an Asian group for the elimination of the next World Cup.

VICTORIA's successful Under 16 team was cheered at a civic reception given to the boys last Thursday by the Minister for Sport and recreation Mr Brian Dixon. The boys recently won the Australian Championship beating the strong NSW 5-0.

REMEMBER "Burly" Lapsich the Hakoah defender? He will soon be back with the blue-whites after a six month holiday in England.

JIM BAKATSOULAS the well known soccer writer of Athletic Echo can't make up his mind with which Greek Club Hellas or Alexander he should register his newly born son. For the time being he is accepting congratulations from members of both Greek Clubs.

IAN TOMASZEWSKI and other members of the LKS team sent regards last week to soccer fans in Australia. They are looking forward to their tour of Australia.

THE BAILY WITH LEN STONE

Len Stone reports from England

THE Football Association called for a full report on the case of a London soccer fan who was fined only $200 for carrying a carving knife just two days after a youth was stabbed to death on the terraces.

They want to know why the fan, 18-year-old Daniel Manka, appeared to have escaped "so lightly" when magistrates have the power to send a person carrying an offensive weapon to prison for up to three months with a maximum $400 fine.

Manka, a Millwall supporter, was arrested after a disturbance between rival fans on the way to Manchester United's ground.

Throughout every week, most First Division and quite a number of English Second Division clubs receive literally thousands of telephone calls, seeking information of various kinds.

Because of the volume of inquiries, members of the public find it impossible in making contact.

Even I, favoured by several clubs with a "secret number" which is available to the inner circle of these clubs, experience long, but unavoidable delays in making contact.

But for the real supporters, the faithful ones, these clubs have installed an answering service which can handle many calls simultaneously.

Information about matches, match bookings, half-time scores, results and other matters of interest to the faithful ones is available so they can help themselves and the busy clubs by ringing a particular number.

Take for example two clubs beginning with A: Arsenal in the First and Aston Villa in the Second Division.

Both have grounds of fantastic size, following that even Collingwood or Carlton would be proud of and receive about a thousand letters each week from all parts of the world.

They have a staff specially employed to cope with as many letters as possible and some weeks they manage to reply to most of them.

The wage bill just for that service is enormous. Then the official club programme at home matches is a well prepared effort which takes much time and personnel and according to the match they print between 30,000 and 70,000 copies.

Many thousands are sent regularly to supporters all over the world.

I can speak of Arsenal. I would be happy to see as many spectators at a State League game as there are Arsenal supporters receiving the club's programme regularly in Australia. I am afraid many of these have never seen a match in Australia yet I am sure they have stood in rain, snow and sleet in their old country to cheer on the Gunners — why can't we win them for soccer in Australia.

Maybe the pools will help to achieve this goal.

Look out for Phil Hammond of Hakoah — he is no ordinary player say the locals at Crystal Palace and Blackburn Rovers where he played with distinction.

When I told some people that he was sent off here in Melbourne, they could hardly believe it.

Of course in England, he was probably used to a different type of referee and decisions given against him were always accepted in the best of spirit I was told.

This does not mean that I'm knocking the referee who sent him off, but a number of people I spoke to, could, as I said before, hardly believe my words.

He was always considered a first class club man, a team player and a very disciplined one at that.

With new countries come new frustrations and interpretations which differ completely from his former environment.

Another player well known, in the South of England, is Slavia keeper Mike O'Hara, who is considered in expert circles a remarkable keeper but one that has not liked the life of a professional and subjected to what I feel too much regimentation.

Talking to a number of professionals, Australia is no longer a fashionable country for soccer players who can't quite make top grade in England.

These are mostly in the twilight of their career or do not see eye to eye with their coach, manager or other officials in the club.

These player first try South Africa, then Canada, then U.S.A. and if that fails, well — perhaps Australia.

Naturally Sydney has first preference because N.S.W. clubs can pay more.

Some people told me that if they lived in Melbourne they would follow George Cross — the reason — they like the name!

In Sydney they say it would be Sutherland or Western Suburbs. Again they like the name!

One player that left a big impact to the vast television audience during the World Cup was Australian captain Peter Wilson.

He had really well worth offers from a number of big English clubs.

The criticism of Soccerists, as far as some students of the game were concerned, was, they were unattractive because of their far too defensive approach but then we are only semi-pros.

THE sad story of Stanley Bowles, was given another unhappy twist. He was placed on the transfer list by his club, Queen's Park Rangers, at his own request. The news was not altogether surprising.

Bowles, 25, has courted controversy throughout his short, mercurial career as one of England's most talented but most temperamental forwards. So yesterday's announcement merely fitted a familiar pattern.

Sacked by Manchester City, for breaches of discipline, Bowles wandered in the soccer wilderness with Bury, Crewe and Carlisle before his prodigious ability persuaded Rangers to pay $210,000 for his services two years ago.

A 10-point plan to control the terraces was hammered out over lunch at Football League headquarters at St. Annes, Lancashire, with League president Lord Westwood. Football Association chairman Dr Andrew Stephen and police chiefs.

Then Mr Howell visited Blackpool's Bloomfield Road, scene of the first death, to announce his charter:

ONE: "More realistic sentences" on hooligans by the courts because a whip-round by friends can cover even the $200 maximum.

TWO: Spells of community service for some convicted — at weekends and match times.

THREE: The law on juvenile offenders to be reviewed.

FOUR: Identity cards for young fans to be considered — though League secretary Alan Hardaker said they "haven't any idea how it will work".

FIVE: Stronger rights for clubs to refuse admission.

SIX: The "penning" of rival groups of fans, and the provision of dry moats or other barriers to be compulsory, with clubs given a 14-day deadline to produce plans.

SEVEN: Crowd conduct to be the subject of weekly confidential reports from every club to the League.

EIGHT: Special squads of police to travel with fans to away matches.

NINE: Players to be told firmly their conduct on field must be "above reproach".

TEN: The Press and television to be asked to exercise "responsibility" in reporting hooliganism.

QUOTES

Two typical reactions:-

Sir Matt Busby, Manchester United director: "It's sad that it has to come to this, but football is faced with a terrible problem."

Mr Albert Henshall, Stoke chairman: "I can't see clubs turning away people who don't have identity cards — we need the money."

And London's problems:-

Scotland Yard commanders from nine London divisions will attend a conference this week on crowd and traffic control as well as hooliganism.

SOCCER POOLS ARE COMING!

Brian Cubitt, Secretary of Croydon City Junior Soccer Club, a man with a mission.

PERSONALITY- BRIAN CUBITT, SOCCER GENTLEMAN

Another of the Victorian Soccer stalwarts born within a stone's throw of an English League club's ground, Brian Cubitt learned to love the game in Grimsby, Cleethorpes area of Lincolnshire.

Grimsby Town's home ground, Brearton Avenue, is situated in the twin town of Cleethorpes, where the Cubitt family lived.

Grimsby is a big fishing port and it was natural that Brian's father should be involved with the sea. He was bo'sun on a fishing trawler.

At the age of eight, war broke out and Brian's father was put on steel erection at various aerodromes. The family moved about quite a bit, living in Scunthorpe, Carlisle, Stockton on Tees etc., until the war ended.

BACK TO SCHOOL

Brian returned to Cleethorpes and went on to complete his education at Bancroft Street, where he represented the school at soccer, as an accomplished right half.

After schooldays, he was apprenticed as a motor mechanic, but studied hard and joined ICI and later the Birds Eye company, qualifying as a plant engineer.

During all this time he carried on playing soccer and figured in every division of the Grimsby and District Football League, with Cromwell Rovers, Victoria Rovers and Scarthoe Wanderers.

Whilst with the latter team, he won his one and only championship trophy, in 1959.

In 1956, he married a Grimsby girl, Maureen, who has presented him with four delightful children.

ENGLISH AND AUSTRALIAN

Eleven years old Helen was born in England. She is a softball fanatic. The three boys were all born in Australia.

Richard (9) has been a regular with the Bayswater under 9 side this season. They are particularly promising youngsters who have won the League Championship and last Saturday entered the final of the JLMC cup by defeating Box Hill 1-0, last Saturday.

They meet Karingal under 9, on October 5, in the final at Dendy Street, Brighton.

Seven years old Ian is also playing for a Bayswater under age team. Remarkable thing is that even at that tender age, they have been playing soccer for three years.

Four years old Craig has already started training with the under 7s, at his own insistence and hopes to play with them next year. No wonder Brian is a proud and happy father.

Brian's parents came to Australia in 1962. Brian and family emigrated the following year.

Settling in Croydon, he immediately joined Croydon City and became a regular in 1964. The following year he was elected secretary and has held that post, the presidency and the last few years Junior secretary in ten years of continuous office.

Brian has played over 300 games with Croydon, was captain coach of the club's first ever championship side when they won the Third Division Reserves flag in 1963 and still turns out for the Thirds team.

JUNIOR INTEREST

In recent years, Brian has concentrated much of his considerable energy on the development of the club's junior set-up.

This year they have over 160 lads in age groups from under 7 to under 15.

Each week nine junior teams go into action and the backroom work involved is tremendous, as all junior organisers well know.

In addition to all the junior work, Brian still finds time to work with First team coach Ted Dilworth, as assistant coach, as well as playing in the Thirds.

He told the writer that he had enjoyed every minute of his association with soccer, both here and overseas. He went on to say that the Croydon club is well supported, both at home and away games. This springs from the juniors. Parents and friends of the boys watch them in the morning or early afternoon and stay for the senior game. They have become such fervent followers of the seniors that they follow them wherever they play.

Except for the years 1968/69, when their home was being refurbished and the dressing rooms etc. were in process of construction, and the club played at Hughes Park, the club has always played at Croydon Park.

PLANT ENGINEER

Brian is plant engineer with Wilmot Breeden, a firm of engineers, at Preston, specialising in the production of automobile hardware (locks, window winding equipment etc.).

In 1955, he was working on Bahrain Island, in the Persian Gulf. He played for the Bahrain Petroleum Soccer Club and they reached the cup final.

The time was just prior to independence and the Arabs were far from friendly towards the British.

They met a local Arab side, Manama F.C., in the final.

The Petroleum club took the lead in the first half with a hotly disputed penalty. In the second half, they scored again.

At a pre-arranged signal, the Arab side was called together by their team captain and marched off the field in single file, ten minutes from the end.

They forfeited the game rather than be beaten by the British on the field.

AUSTRALIAN SOCCER

When speaking with Mr Cubitt on the subject of Australian soccer, he was forthright and down to earth.

"Soccer has developed tremendously, particularly in the last five years in the Metropolitan," he said. He associates this with the advent of the Victorian Soccer Coaches Association. He regards the work done by Ollie Norris, Ken Kontra, Paddy Slogan and Rale Rasic as invaluable in the upward surge of coaching tactics, which has brought such dramatic improvement to the standard of soccer in this State.

MANAGEMENT COMMITTEE

For three years, this quietly spoken, gentlemanly sportsman with an abundance of energy, figured on the Metropolitan League Management Committee of Management.

He worked with that great Metro stalwart from Sandringham, Bill Campbell, on the sub committee which investigated Amateur registration.

He was on the sub committee which restarted the Federation Cup and only left because he was anxious to assist in building up Croydon City as a club of significance. For years they had languished around Third and Fourth Divisions and he believed that the area was ripe for a club of much higher grade.

The fact that Croydon just missed out on promotion to Division One this time is evidence of the new, forward looking spirit in the club.

He believes that a club with a strong junior set-up leads to a strong senior club and that is how Croydon are working for the future.

One of his burning ambitions is to see a first team composed of home grown talent, playing in the First Division.

He says that the days of State League teams spending big money overseas, to bring out players of doubtful quality, are numbered.

The State League will have to follow the pattern of Metropolitan development. If they don't, the Met will take over as the premier league in this State.

He hopes, however, that commonsense will prevail and that a single Victorian League will come into being quickly.

It will be the salvation and making of soccer in Victoria. The number of divisions doesn't matter. Unity and concentration of strength are the important things.

CYCLIST

In a final comment, this remarkable man, who has the capacity to get things done, without being obvious or self-promoting, revealed two other aspects of his amazing sporting career.

He was an enthusiastic cross country runner and member of Grimsby Harriers. In the summer months he was a keen amateur cyclist and rode in the first Amateur Cycling Tour of Britain, in 1954.

Brian Cubitt, quiet, softly spoken, deeply sincere. Another of the tremendous group of men of all nations, united in the common aim of raising the soccer banner to the highest pinnacle in Australia and prepared to spare no effort in achieving this aim.

INDUSTRIAL LEAGUE CHATTER

By FRED HABBE

RUNNERS' UP FLAG VIRTUALLY THORN'S

At Monash University AWA-Thorn virtually assured themselves the 1974 League Runners-up honours with a narrow 2-1 victory over also contenders Bosch in a fast and good technical game last Sunday.

The perfect ground conditions at the University allowed for a high standard game in which the TV people deservedly gained the points.

Dzanovski and Tubic netted the goals for the winners while Bosch top scorer Milan Stoilovic signed responsible for his side's only one.

Congratulations to the Bundoora side Thorn. In only its first year in top company the TV man had a roaring start which catapulted the team right to the top of the ladder.

UNDEFEATED IN ELEVEN GAMES

Credit goes to Thorn for being the only side being undefeated in the second half of the season. In fact the side remained undefeated in eleven successive games. An outstanding feat.

AWA-Thorn now has 25 points and has completed all its matches. Third placed Bosch with two outstanding games in hand still has a theoretical chance in overtaking the TV men, however, this is highly unlikely. Bosch would need to score at least 16 goals in their two remaining games without conceding any. Seeing that one of Bosch's opponents is the strong Kodak side the possibility of Thorn's position being endangered is equal to nothing.

HOT SHOT MIRKO

Top striker Mirko Dzanovski, despite constant special attention by opposition defences, still puts the goals on the board for Thorn, as he's done in the previous years with his club. Next to McColl, AWA-Thorn have the soundest defence in the League. Goalkeeper Ronaszeki must be rated as one of the best and Moreland regular Michael Tsambikos is the marshall in the back-line. Superior in technical ability Michael is outstanding in the air, and whoever plays against him finds Michael a very tough nut to crack.

Something perhaps not too many people were aware of, AWA-Thorn S.C. consists of 100% Thorn employees, in fact rules are that strict that if a player terminates his employment with the company he automatically forfeits his membership in the soccer club.

In Thorn's case this policy appears to be paying off. Other clubs like Philip Morris and Bow-scot found themselves at such a disadvantage due to similar rigid rules that they were forced to relax them in order to survive.

NEW FLOODLIGHTS

Thorn, who is leasing a ground from the La-trobe University, has plans to install floodlights on the ground in return for the University extending the lease. The ground area was originally set aside for a car park, and only due to Thorn's extensive use is the University administration now inclined to retain the ground for soccer.

Thorn's rise to the elite in Industrial soccer is no coincidence. Already under its founder, Bob Brooks, regular twice a week training was introduced. The result was steady improvement. In its first year, 1972, Thorn finished in sixth position on the second division ladder. The side's big year came the following season. From the start the team led the field and finished convincingly on top thus gaining promotion to first division.

Everybody knows the enormous impact Thorn has made in top company, and it shouldn't surprise if the team would arise as a major title contender next year.

ABUNDANCE OF RESERVE PLAYERS

To keep the numerous reserves happy is Thorn's biggest problem, and the club's administration is eager to enter a reserve side into the competition. With other clubs being in similar situations an official reserve league in 1974 might be created.

FALCONS NOT IN CUP FORM

Ford Falcons, after their glorious Cup win in the previous week, failed to repeat their brilliance and had to struggle to keep the ambitious Vickers side at bay, winning by four goals to two.

Both sides had their problems with the strong wind out at Sydenham and many well meant passes went astray.

There was little between the sides, but while Ford capitalized on their chances Vickers failed in front of goal.

The result of the game had no bearing on League positions. The Falcons will move up into second division while the incalculable Vickers side finished in 7th position.

SECOND DIVISION TITLE STILL IN SUSPENSE

Both Ericsson and Standard had a rest day last Sunday. It now appears to be most likely that the title-winner will not be known before the 6th of October when these two teams will clash in what will be rated as the battle of the giants.

But Ericsson, who suffered its first defeat of the season by the hands of Ford Falcons in last week's Adidas Cup final, still has to overcome two hurdles before the Standard game. Next week the Blue-Yellows face Patons Brakes, a team that is by no accounts a push-over. On the 29th Ericsson has to visit Cadbury and should return with both points.

Should Ericsson win both games we'll have a Grand Final atmosphere for the Standard game, and this clash then will be a thriller, fully worth to be watched.

M.I.S.L. PRESENTATION NIGHT

Six hundred people are expected to attend this year's Presentation Dance at the Camberwell Civic Centre on Saturday, November 2.

After the enormous success of last year's dance at the Swagman Restaurant in Fernree

Gully where 500 people had a fantastic night, this year's event is likely to be the biggest and best ever. The MISL has negotiated a very good deal with the caterers and is able to offer a double ticket for $20.00 which includes a first class five course meal, all liquor supplied and one of Melbourne's best bands, The Emeralds. Unique of its kind in Victoria, the MISL presentation dance has become a tradition, and a popular one at that. The rush on tickets is on, and anybody wishing to be part of the MISL Spectacular should phone the secretary on 735.0371.

The top Award of the Industrial scene, the Tarax Player of the Year will be announced at the presentation night. The same applies to the individual winners of the Best and Fairest Awards in each of the three divisions.

Can any of last year's winners do it again? Jimmy Daperis of champion side McColl won last year's Tarax award with an overwhelming majority, but Jimmy has not had such a successful season and his throne is in serious jeopardy.

Hugh Shaw won the Best and Fairest trophy in first division last year. Hugh has swapped clubs this year. Now playing for Kodak Little has been heard of him this season.

Ericsson's Brana Basic, last year's winner in second division, again has had a very successful year. Can he do it again?

Standard's Ken Waugh last year won the third division trophy with a fantastic margin. Eight times Ken polled best on the ground. This year the third division will have a new trophy winner as Ken is now playing in second division.

All questions will be answered at the presentation night, until then the suspense is on.

WOMEN'S SOCCER

By FRED HABBE

It couldn't have been more thrilling. Deadlocked at a goal a piece with only 30 seconds to go the Association Cup Final between Melton and Green Gully suddenly became dramatic when referee DeLange awarded a penalty to the Ajax side after a fatal ball handling by Melton's Jean Denham in her own penalty area.

Victoria's top woman player, Hazel Donovan, with an almost 100% record in converting penalties marched up to wrap up the game. The unexpected big crowd of approximately 500 was in dead silence when Hazel took the kick. The ball took off low and hard, but suddenly Melton keeper Trudy Reissmann was down on the ground, got a hand to it, and pounced the leather back into the field.

Jubilation among Melton players and supporters while Hazel was so surprised of the ball coming back that she didn't even attempt for a second try. Only seconds later the full-time whistle, and both teams faced the agony of extra-time.

WIND TROUBLES PLAYERS

In the first half of the game Melton had the assistance of the strong wind but gained little from it. Although appearing frequently in front of Rose Sammut's goal the Melton forward line was at a loss when it came to convert from opportunities.

State player Jeannette Melvin apparently still hadn't fully recovered from her knee injury and was not at her usual best. Gully defended vigorously and cleverly with full marks going to Rose Sammut in goal and Anna Justista as special watchdog for Jeannette Melvin.

On the other side Kay Morley played at her brilliant best in the Melton defence and at that stage had Gully star Hazel Donovan tightly checked.

GULLY RUNS HOT

After a scoreless first half Melton faced the task of holding out against the wind, and as it turned out Green Gully took full advantage of the situation. Waves of attacks were thrown at the Melton goal and the Phoenix defence had to produce its best to keep the pressing Gully forwards out. Hazel became the centre of the action and whenever in position Melton had to sound full alert. Unfortunately Hazel lacked the support of her teammates, and instead of Green Gully running away with the game Melton suddenly hit the front.

advantage of a confusion in the Green Gully defence and pushed the ball past Rose Summat who had left her goal to meet the ball. Some paralyzing seconds later which seemed like eternity the ball finally made it over the line.

The surprise goal seemed to shake up the Gully side. More vigorous became their attacking and finally in a brilliant solo-action Hazel saw her efforts rewarded as she slammed the ball past Trudy Reissmann from close range to level the scores.

Few chances were created in the remainder of the game until Jean Denham's fateful handball.

ANN BELL INJURED

In the first half of the extra time Green Gully retained the wind advantage and did most of the attacking. Play became more desperate and in one of the actions state mid-fielder Ann Bell was hit in the leg, and had to be carried off the ground.

Shortly after again Hazel Donovan dribbled through the Melton defence and cannoned the ball towards goal, but Trudy Reissmann was well positioned and saved.

After the change of ends Melton gradually took over and most of the play was taking place in or around the Gully goal mouth, but hardly any scoring chances were created and by the final whistle there still was no decision reached.

RE-PLAY NEXT SATURDAY

Both teams will meet again on the same ground in Churchill Reserve in St Albans next Saturday, kick-off 2.45 pm. Should there be no winner after extra time the match will be decided by penalty kicks.

DOVETON FIRST, DANDENONG SECOND

The match that decided the final placing in the East Division, between the two top sides, Doveton and Dandenong resulted in a two-all draw, enough to secure the top spot to Doveton.

Again Josie Jansen starred for Dandenong. She also scored one of the goals. Dandenong goalie Caroline Jennings had one of her best days and frustrated many hopeful Doveton attacks. Right half Karen McCarthy proved her consistency with a solid performance.

Best for Doveton: Bev Hubbard and Kathy Darby who scored one of the goals and Karen Hume. Michelle Murphy scored the second for Dandenong.

BAYSWATER STILL WITHOUT WIN

Bottom East Division team Bayswater had their best chance yet to win their first ever two points, but the side seems to be jinxed. Despite continuous superiority against Frankston the Bayswater girls just couldn't capitalize.

Ruza Dunning topped it all by missing three sitters. Twice the woodwork had to assist Frankston from falling behind, and by the final whistle both teams shared the points with the score being 1-1.

The teams will meet again next week, this time in Fernree Gully and it will be Bayswater's last chance to win a game this season.

SEMI FINALS NEXT WEEK

The cut-throat semi-finals of the 1974 championship will be played next Sunday at Raynor Reserve, Broadmeadows.

Melton, winner of the West Division will meet Dandenong, second placed in the East, and Doveton, Winner of the East Division faces Greensborough, who finished second in the West.

None of the teams will get a second chance, so we'll be sure to see some do or die battles. Favourites? Well, the general consensus seems to favour both West teams, and past matches proved this theory. But both Doveton and Dandenong must not be underrated.

Judging on Melton's cup performance a weakness in the attacking department was very obvious, and their job will not be made easier against the two Rampal sisters, both of who have proved their competency in defence for Dandenong numerous times. With Caroline Jennings Dandenong have a good keeper and Karen McCarthy will make it even harder for Melton to break through.

Josie Jansen is one of the most lethal strikers in the Association and is gifted with tremendous speed. Whoever in the Melton defence gets the job to shadow Josie will have a job on her hand.

Melton's chances will stand and fall with the fitness of Jeannette Melvin, one of the few outstanding players in Victoria. In peak form Jeannette is a match-winner. Lesley Brett always is impressive in moving the ball up the wing but poor work in the finishing department nullifies many of her efforts.

Tall and slim Colleen Philips must be guarded well as she always seems to come into the game in an unobtrusive fashion. Suddenly she is there to score.

On past performances Melton should start the game as favourites but I give Dandenong an outside chance.

TOUGH TASK AHEAD FOR DOVETON

Doveton probably would have better done to finish second in the East. Sunday's opponent, Greensborough, is presently in devastating form and most likely harder to conquer than the injury stricken Melton side.

The two Greensborough stars, Shona Bass and Andrea Martin, take a lot of beating and it will be interesting to see who little Karen "Tiger" Hume will have to take on. I guess Karen will be the special watch-dog for Shona.

Reflecting back on Doveton's cup performance against Green Gully I can't see the side crack this big one. Too heavy are the Boro's guns. And the Boro defence is solid. State keeper Monika Werner and fullback Jan Snedden are the outstanding players in this back-line.

Doveton will rely on State winger Bev Hubbard, one of the finest players in Victoria, Josie Hili and Kathy Darby. All three players can score and work well together.

Doveton's weakness lies in defence. Only Karen Hume is of above average and the Doveton strategists will have to give consideration to improving their back-line.

Having seen both sides play I go for Greensborough. I just see Doveton causing an upset.

The first match, Melton v Dandenong, will kick-off at 2 pm. The Doveton v Greensborough game starts at 3.30 pm.

REPORTS

GEORGE YELLAND GEORGE YELLAND

LAST Thursday night, Springvale City Soccer Club held their Annual Presentation Dinner Dance at the Springvale City Hall.

It was a glittering affair, with hundreds of juniors present, everyone of whom received a commemorative plaque, to mark their participation in club games throughout the season.

Plaques and trophies were presented by the Mayor and Mayoress of Springvale and VSF secretary George Wallace.

Springvale has one of the biggest and best organised junior set-ups in Victoria. The club is to be commended for its efforts with youngsters and for the glittering night which set the seal on a successful season.

At the Italia Hall, Northcote, on Friday night, Preston Soccer Club held its presentation dinner dance.

A crowded hall dined, wine and danced until the early hours.

Best and Fairest awards were presented to recipients by VSF secretary Mr George Wallace.

Popular Tommy Fox won the senior award with Steve Trajanovski and Albert Harrison in second and third places.

Once again, Ian Reid, who missed five games through injury, received the top goal scoring award, with 21 for the season.

He assured the writer that next season, given a minimum of team injuries, Preston will win their way into State League.

Well, time will tell!!

Monash University say farewell to one of their outstanding players and clubmen, over the last four years.

Jerry Gillard PhD, a popular lecturer at the university is returning to England. Gentleman both on and off the field, he has proved himself a skilful footballer and true sportsman. He will be sadly missed by all at Monash.

Significantly, his last game was against Melbourne University, last Sunday, and as usual he was one of his team's stars.

The annual Scotland versus England match, at Middle Park, will take place on Sunday, K O 11 a.m.

Referee will be Bob Randall and the teams will be composed entirely of Park Rangers players.

The club is making this a great social event this time.

After the game, a pig will be roasted and drinks provided.

This event usually marks the end of the club's official programme of matches. If they down Doveton in the Federation Cup on Saturday, this will not be the case this year.

Mysterious disappearance of Brighton Soccer Club star.

This dramatic statement is not just a lurid headline, it is a simple statement of fact.

At the time of writing, star Brighton forward, Nicky Starczewski had been missing for five days.

A Brighton official told Soccer Week, last Sunday, that Nicky had set out for training on the previous Tuesday stand that foul play is not suspected at this time, for Nicky has gone "walkabout" before.

If you have not returned when this goes on sale, Nicky, please contact your loved ones and/or the Brighton Soccer Club. A lot of people are more than a little worried. Your family and Soccer mates need you.

SUNDAY saw the last Metro League problem solved. East Melbourne visited and defeated Broadmeadows City by the only goal of the game. We received no direct report on the game, but the referee informed us that Broadmeadows tore into the game from the start and applied most of the early pressure. Gradually East Melbourne steadied, defended well and then took the initiative. In the end, they proved too good and deservedly completed the season as Fourth Division champions. Below is a complete list of the season's champions, promoted and relegated clubs.

Division One: Champions Sunshine City, Runners up Altona City. Relegated Box Hill and Yallourn.

Division Two: Champions Waverley City. Promoted Ferntree Gully. Relegated Ringwood United and Prahran City.

Division Three: Champions Brighton. Promoted Bayswater. Relegated Ballarat and Corio.

Division Four: Champions East Melbourne. Promoted Bell Park. Bottom club South Yarra, second bottom Rosebud.

Provisional League: Champions Morwell Falcons. Runners up Geelong. Bottom club Carlton, second bottom Melton.

Division One Reserves champions: Sunshine City.

Division Two Reserves champions: Croydon City.

Division Three Reserves champions: Park Rangers.

Division Four Reserves champions: Monash University.

Provisional League Reserves: Morwell Falcons

THE Federation Cup second round produced its usual crop of thrilling games and shock results. There is still plenty for Metro Soccer enthusiasts, even though 1974's exciting League programme is over.

Will there be a new name on this year's cup? Will Preston, last year's winner, do it again?

Will a surprise winner emerge from the lower divisions?

These fascinating questions will be answered in the next few weeks and Soccer Week will bring you all the stories, in word and picture.

MATCH REPORTS

St Albans 1 Bayswater 2.

Hail, rain and high wind made ball control difficult and good soccer almost impossible.

The visitors had the benefit of the elements in the first half and attacked strongly. Colin Waller hit a post with a good effort, after 15 minutes. Shortly after, Alan Jackson lobbed the ball over Lou Denys as he advanced to narrow the angle, but the ball hit the cross bar.

FIRST GOAL

At the 28 minute mark, Colin Waller ran through on the right and crashed the ball into the net with a savage cross shot.

EXTRA TIME

With time running out, Rangers went into all out attack and with only seconds left, Dennis Ruecroft put over a well judged corner, which Eddie Cassidy scrambled in, to force extra time.

Early in the first period of extra time, Clemie broke through and shot. The ball deflected off a defender to Robertson who promptly slammed it in the net.

Monash fought back, Bluzer shot over when only ten yards out, then Frank Hoyle broke through and shot straight at keeper Payne. These were followed by a Gerry Gillard effort which cleared the bar from seven yards range.

Rangers packed their defence for the remainder of the game and held on to emerge fortunate victors.

Hoyle, Kevin Morgan, Frank Perkin and goalkeeper Simon Hemmings were outstanding for the university.

Waverley City 2 Princes Park 1.

Waverley were always in command of this game, but, in the end, made very hard work of it.

They moved smoothly into attack and took the lead with a very good goal after only ten minutes.

Sammy Jordan moved through and lobbed the ball across for Peter Whitehurst to head it into the net.

Dave McCourt broke through and crashed the ball against a post, but a minute before the interval, a defensive error let the visitors in for an equaliser, following a corner kick.

Waverley took the lead again two minutes into the second period when Whitehurst took the ball to the bye line, beating two men on the way, and chipped it over the keeper for Jordan to head into the net.

MISSED CHANCES

Waverley missed a number of opportunities to increase the lead and could have paid dearly for it.

Ten minutes from time, Princes Park were awarded a penalty kick, but Newton Wynne brought off a great save and Waverley did not give them another opportunity.

Chelsea 1 Frankston City 2.

Chelsea nearly brought off a giant killing act when they took on First Division side Frankston City.

They put on a fine performance and had they opened up play as their visitors did, might have gone better than defeat by an odd goal.

Midway through the first half, ex-Chelsea player Keith Grainger put over an accurate cross for Norrie Campbell to put Frankston ahead. Campbell has now scored in the last four matches.

BAD

BACK PASS

Ten minutes later, Jim Logan levelled matters for the home side, when he seized on to a bad pass back to Billy Papoutsakis by Ryko Bjelica, also an old Chelsea player.

On the half hour Frankston went ahead again. This time Graham Clamp centred for Campbell to score his second goal.

Chelsea fought hard in the second half but tended to get too congested in the penalty area. Mike Haupt and Logan missed glaring opportunities of scoring, but Frankston defended stubbornly and emerged victorious.

Alf Neri and ex-Frankston player Keith Lawson were outstanding for Chelsea, with Neil Evans doing a superb job in goal.

Ballarat 1 Albion Rovers 3.

Albion Rovers had a new experience when the game was held up for snow.

Although Albion always looked the likely winners, Ballarat put up a brave fight.

Playing with the wind, the visitors were in continuous attack in the first half, but after 19 minutes play the home side gave them a shock. A long ball breakaway caught Albion's defence too far up and Ballarat went into a shock lead.

Before half-time, captain-coach Hugh Murney, moved up to head a good equaliser for the visitors.

A snowstorm caused play to be suspended for a time and it was obvious that Albion did not relish the conditions.

After an hour's play, Tom Clark let loose a terrific drive which rebounded to Murney, who scored again.

ALL ALBION

This second goal took the steam out of Ballarat and it was all Albion for the remainder of the game.

John Pryde surprisingly missed a penalty kick awarded for a handling offence. His spot kick went straight at the keeper.

With seven minutes left, Gordon Cameron gave the score an air of respectability, when he made it 3-1, but Albion will have to produce better finish if they are to advance any further in the competition, after Saturday's home tie with Altona.

Clayton 2 Doncaster Rovers 1.

This game was played at Dendy Street, Brighton. Clayton's home pitch was unplayable.

The strong wind blowing straight down the ground was no help to Clayton as the ball frequently passed well over the forwards.

Clayton were largely in attack in the first half, but did not score until the 44th minute.

Ronnie Ryan chased a through ball and scored from close range. Clayton played much better against the wind in the second half.

After 60 minutes play, Gerry Boggan put the ball through for Mike Robson to run on to and put Clayton two up.

Robson missed two good chances later and Clayton should have had the game well and truly sown up.

With five minutes to go, Doncaster scored. A 40 yard lob bounced off the cross bar and the centre forward followed up to ram the rebound into the net.

Clayton defenders Tony Bates, Vince Preston and George Kyle were magnificent, particularly facing the wind in the second half.

Altona City 2 Essendon Lions 0.

The teams were out on the ground when a heavy hailstorm drove them back into the pavilion and the game did not get underway until 3 o'clock.

Lions had enough chances in the first half to have made this tie safe.

After 18 minutes, Rade Covic crossed for Bill Dackiw to head straight at the keeper from only three yards. Two minutes later, Ian Leives got the ball past the keeper, only to see Ian Hynds clear off the line.

Next it was Alex Napadowski's turn. He dribbled past the defence and tried to walk the ball in, only to see it pass wide of the post. Wally Kulyk had two headers well saved before Altona took a shock lead in a rather fortunate manner, a minute before the interval.

SHOCK GOAL

Jim Ackers fed David Cooper who took the ball nearly to a corner flag before belting it across the goal. The wind curled it in and ball and keeper landed in the net.

Altona contained Lions in the second half with well organised defence. Gradually they took full command.

With only two minutes left, Cooper scored one of the finest goals seen at Kim Reserve, for a long time.

Doug Barber raced way down the right wing and crossed a high ball which Cooper hit with his head from 25 yards out. It flew into the net like a bullet.

Cooper and Ackers were outstanding for the victors.

Dandenong City 3 Green Gully 2.

Dandenong brought off a great cup-tie victory over First Division side Green Gully and it was no fluke.

Dandenong took charge in the first half and led 2-0 at the interval.

Albert Stanway scored both goals following good approach work by Brian Holcombe.

Gully fought back after the interval and reduced the arrears, but it was not long before Arthur Hill made it 3-1. With the home side well on top the margin should have been greater but in the last minute they gave away yet another penalty kick and Gully made the score a flattering 2-3.

Stanway, Holcombe, John Witherspoon and Neil Davie were outstanding in a great team effort.

Corio 1 Brighton 1 after extra time, Saturday.

Brighton 3 Corio 2. Replay Sunday.

Brighton put on a dismal display at Corio on Saturday. A few short weeks ago they visited this ground and won a League game 8-2. On Saturday they fluffed chances and showed little of the spirit which carried them to the Third Division Championship, yet they should have won.

Ten minutes from the end of a dreary game played in appalling conditions, even alert Johnny Irvine popped up to put them ahead.

Almost the last kick of the game produced an equaliser for Corio. Neither side looked capable of scoring in extra time.

The replay at Sillitoe Reserve on Sunday looked like being a repeat, at least for Brighton.

In all fairness, injuries, suspension etc left Brighton short of five regular first team men. Micky Benton, Graham Wheat and Bobby McLachlan were injured, Matt McCaig suspended and Nicky Starczewski missing.

It was a lamentable performance for three parts of the game.

A long ball down the right, after ten minutes, produced a good centre and Corio scored.

Brighton had chances but they finished woefully. Kevin Colman was through and pushed the ball wide when he should certainly have scored.

As half time approached Brighton suffered a further blow.

From a move down the right wing came a hard cross which the Brighton keeper could not hold and Jim McArdle forced the ball into the net.

Although favouring his injured leg, McLachlan came on in the second half and hit the cross bar in the first minute.

Things were looking very black for the baysiders when suddenly they came to life, 15 minutes from the end.

Three goals in seven minutes completely reversed matters and Brighton pass into the third round.

First Alan Tubb floated a ball from well out which hit the inside of a post and went in. Two minutes later, there was a remarkable goalmouth incident, where Brighton forwards had four attempts at ramming the ball in, before Johnny Irvine made sure.

With eight minutes left, Irvine chipped over a beauty and Billy Lewis rose high to nod it into the net for a winner that never seemed likely for most of the game.

Corio fought well and McCulcan at centre half and Ken Meadows were outstanding.

Bobby Evans, brought in from the Reserves side, played a good game and Bobby McLachlan inspired his lads to produce that remarkable winning effort.

Irvine was brilliant in patches and one particular fierce drive looked a goal all over but Corio keeper brought off a magnificent save.

If Brighton are to go much further in the competition they will need to produce much better team work and finish than was the case last week.

GEORGE YELLAND PREVIEW GEORGE YELLAND C FEDERATION CUP SHOCKS

Four more First Division sides ousted from the competition, making it six in the first two rounds.

With Sunshine City and Keilor City the only Metropolitan clubs to boycott the competition, there are now only four First Division clubs left and at least one of these must go next Saturday, in round three.

LOWER DIVISIONS

Surprising feature of the demise of top clubs, is the fact that four of them succumbed to sides from lower divisions of the League.

This illustrates two important aspects.

The tremendous improvement in standard, of Metropolitan Soccer, particularly at lower levels and the spicy unpredictability of sudden death competitions.

The reintroduction of the Federation Cup several years ago, was one of the wisest moves made by the Metropolitan Management Committee.

It is fast becoming a glamour competition, carrying prestige and putting the icing on the Metro's yearly competition cake.

INTEREST

Clubs in all divisions see themselves as potential winners and their determined and serious approach to each round is making the Federation Cup far more important to the Met than the Dockerty Cup, which is so heavily loaded in favour of State League, that that competition is now little more than a variation on the State League Cup.

At least three clubs in divisions lower than the first, assured me that they will win the Federation Cup, after last Saturday's round. One of them could do it, as well.

It all adds up to an absorbing round three, on Saturday.

GREAT THIRD ROUND

Eight unpredictable games, constitute a great third Round. Not one of the encounters could be described as a foregone conclusion. Of the 16 teams involved, no less than SIX come from the Third Division.

Of the remaining ten, four are from Division One, three from Division Two and three from Division Four.

In a further break down, four of the clubs are in the lower half of their respective divisions and four others achieved promotion this year. If there is no radical change in Metropolitan constitution for season 1975, the management committee might give serious thought to extending the competition to include the Provisional League.

EXTENSION OF THE MET.

The Provisional League is the forgotten "appendage" of the Metropolitan. Confined to a water tight competition, clubs stagnate through lack of opportunity. Many of these clubs have facilities, organisation and financial backing, far superior to the more favoured clubs playing under the Metro banner.

After all, the Provisional League, is really the "Metropolitan" Provisional League.

They have to answer to the same I and D Committee and play directly under VSF direction, but have no competition outside their own league and no automatic promotion and relegation system. This shortsighted injustice should receive immediate and serious attention.

ALL Metropolitan clubs, plus the Provisional League, should be invited to compete and make this cup competition really great.

The best answer, would be to make the Provisional League, Division Five of the Met., but that is another matter, not directly related to this cup competition.

MORE SHOCKS AHEAD

It is bad enough trying to predict the outcome of League games, where form is some sort of guide.

Cup games are a nightmare to predict.

Inevitably there will be more shocks ahead and results will confound those foolish enough to try predicting the last eight, however, here is how I see the games and their outcomes.

Park Rangers, after running to extra time against two Fourth Division clubs, in the first two rounds, have a home game against the rough, tough, no nonsense Doveton, who slammed in 13 goals against Broadmeadows, last Saturday. Of course, Broadmeadows had that all important promotion battle on Sunday, which meant a much weakened side at Doveton, but the Dandenong side have improved out of sight in the late stages of the season.

Rangers are capable of brilliance and on their day could down any team in their division, on the smooth surface of Middle Park. I take Rangers to win narrowly.

Heidelberg will entertain Fourth Division side Clayton, at Hawker Street and should win.

However, points to consider are the complete unpredictability of both clubs. They are capable of rising to great heights. They are both guilty of some dismal performances.

Physically, Heidelberg are probably the stronger, but Clayton can play top class Soccer, on their day.

This one could go either way, but taking everything into consideration, I must go for Heidelberg to win.

DIVISION ONE MEETING

Altona City received a bye in the first round, but have not had very good luck in their draws for rounds two and three.

Last week, they had a tough time before downing Essendon Lions and now have to face Albion Rovers, at Selwyn Park.

It is the only game involving two First Division clubs and in spite of being drawn away from home, I think the Altona boys will pass into the quarter finals.

At this stage, Altona must be regarded as favourites to win the trophy, which they last won, two years ago, with that great victory over Slavia, at Olympic Park.

Frankston City were pushed all the way at Bonbeach and Third Division Chelsea could be regarded as unfortunate to get nothing out of the encounter.

Eltham face up to them, at Seaford Reserve, on Saturday and although their opposition comes from Division Three, Frankston cannot afford to take the match lightly.

Eltham have hit their straps at the right time. Last week, they visited Ormond Park and clearly defeated the powerful Essendon City. They will push Frankston all the way and could provide one of the shock results.

On balance, I must go for Frankston because they have the skill and experience, but they will have to snap out of the lethargic approach, particularly in attack, which has lost them so many points this season.

OUTSTANDING GAME

Collier Street should see a large crowd for the meeting of old rivals Preston and Dandenong City.

This should provide the outstanding game in round three.

On paper, Preston should win. They are third on the First Division ladder, have scored 12 goals without reply in their first two rounds and currently, are cup holders.

Dandenong have also scored 12 times in the first two rounds, but have conceded three.

Preston played away to third bottom Mornington, of the Fourth Division, and last Saturday thrashed Caulfield City, third bottom in the Third Division, at Collier Street.

Dandenong dealt severely with second bottom, Fourth Division side Rosebud and last week downed Green Gully, more easily than the score suggests. Green Gully finished the season only three places below Preston, on the First Division ladder.

The stage is set for a great battle, but ground advantage should just swing it Preston's way.

I do not rule out a shock result in this game, for Dandenong are dead keen to take the Federation Cup.

REPEAT PERFORMANCE?

The one match in round three, to be played outside the Metropolitan area, is at Geelong, where Bell Park, champions of Division Four, entertain Waverley City, champions of Division Two.

It will be a fascinating repeat meeting, for the teams met on the same ground, earlier in the season, in the Dockerty Cup.

Bell Park won 3-2 and will be eager to repeat that performance.

Waverley are a much more sophisticated side since that meeting and should reverse the earlier result.

They crushed First Division opposition from Western Suburbs in the first round, but made heavy weather of their game against Princes Park, last Saturday.

Bell Park had a bye in the first round and were taken to extra time by Second Division Newport last week.

It all adds up to an intriguing situation, with the result very much in the balance.

Waverley, another club with covetous eyes on the cup, are not likely to make the same mistakes this time and I expect them to win, even if it involves extra time, or a replay.

BAD GROUND

The Richmond, Bayswater tie is deserving of a much better playing area than Burnley Oval. Both sides play clever Soccer. Both sides give 90 minutes of solid effort. On a surface like Dendy Park, or Seaford Reserve, I would rate this, one of the round's outstanding ties.

Burnley Oval does not lend itself to finesse or clever ball play, with the result that the team best equipped with the long ball, direct approach technique, will emerge victorious.

Because it is their home ground, I believe Richmond will win, but don't discount Bayswater's meritorious win at Fox Street over First Division side St Albans, last round.

DRAWN GAME

Brighton drew at Corio last Saturday and had to replay on Sunday. The very conservative Brighton council will not allow Brighton seniors to use Dendy Street, on Sundays, so the game was played at Sillitoe Reserve, home of Sandringham City.

Playing without five regulars, Brighton seemed in danger of losing the replay, but a late burst of three goals in seven minutes gave them the right to entertain University in the Third Round, on Saturday.

University have two fine victories to their credit, so far. They downed Second Division Croydon City in the first round and Prahran City, another Second Division side, last week. Both these were home games and it will not be so easy at Dendy Street, this week.

If Brighton's injured players are back, the home side should win. If not, the enthusiastic students are capable of yet another shock.

GREAT GAMES

Whatever the eventual outcome, Metro Soccer followers are assured of eight great games on Saturday, so roll up in your thousands to Como Park Prahran, Hawker Street, Heidelberg, Seaford Reserve Frankston, Collier Street Preston, Dendy Street Brighton, Selwyn Park Sunshine, Bell Park Geelong and Burnley Oval Richmond.

The games are spread out into most areas, the games will be thrilling and full of sporting entertainment. There is something for everybody and with the glittering prize of the Federation Cup at the end of the road, players will spare no effort.

SYDNEY SOCCER SCENE

BY JACK DANIELS AND OSCAR BROWN

THE BIG question on everybody's lips in Australian football at the moment is has Rale Rasic's reign as Australia's national coach come to an end?

For when Rasic flew out of Sydney last Saturday on his World tour with Soccerroo Ray Richards and their wives, his outlook and feeling towards the Australian Football Federation was one of bitterness and disappointment.

This was the result of an unholy row that had blown-up between Rasic and the ASF during mid-week over promised World Cup bonuses.

Rasic claims that he has not been paid the bonuses promised to him in Germany.

In fact he has gone as far as putting the matter into the hands of his solicitors.

The ASF on their hand claim that no bonuses to either Rasic or the players will be paid until they receive their share of the receipts for their participation of the World Cup final series in Germany.

This they claim was agreed upon by the players and the coach before the team left for Germany.

Whatever the outcome the whole matter is rather sad as Australia under Rasic got success beyond all hopes in Germany.

If a parting of the waves does come it will be a sad day as both Rasic and the Australian Football Federation have been good for Australian Soccer over the past four years.

Meanwhile with the possibility of either Rasic not prepared to continue as coach or not being re-elected, the name of Sir Alf Ramsey has been banded about as a possible Australian boss for the next World Cup series in Argentina.

Whether or not Sir Alf would even contemplate coming to the colonies for four years to take charge of the Soccerroos is debatable but he certainly has the credentials for the job.

He won the World Cup with England in 1966 but since then he was sacked after his very defensive views.

Born in 1920, and nicknamed the "General" in his playing days, worthy of elevation to "Field-Marshal" on becoming head of the national team.

Ramsey's managerial career had been one contrast from the start, his ability to build fine teams and command unwavering loyalty being combined with a habit of alienating certain people, particularly journalists.

He was ridiculed for over-confidence when announcing that England would win the World Cup as early as 1963, and officially censured for calling the Argentine players "animals" after the brutal semi-final.

But Ramsey had the last word when England won, a feat he greeted with his usual icy calm.

He revealed the same impassive exterior four years later after the remarkable quarter final defeat by West Germany in Mexico stubbornly insisting that he had been right to make two substitutes in defence of a 2-0 lead.

For all his apparent score of public relations Ramsay undoubtedly had a great tactical awareness.

He soon realized that victory was the outstanding achievement, even at the expense of entertainment.

Hence his succession of English teams largely successful, but rarely inspired.

He demanded that a player gave his all, all the time seeming to distrust the unorthodox hence his faithfulness to limited workhorses like Nobby Stiles, Roger Hunt and Norman Hunter, and his somewhat ungenerous treatment of men such as Jimmy Greaves and Johnny Byrne.

Ramsey was in some ways a surprising choice for the England job in 1963, after only eight years as manager of Ipswich.

No doubt his similarity to the previous holder of the job, Walter Winterbottom, had something to do with it, for both were, outwardly at least, placid and wary of haste.

England's first match under him was a disaster, a 5-2 defeat by France. But the newcomers methods were soon seen to work.

He was able to impart his confidence to his men and build up an overall pattern repeated over and over again, despite many experiments, with its basis in selfless running and unflagging determination.

Perhaps the biggest criticism of Ramsey is for something he did not do, rather than anything he tried and failed.

After 1966, England as champions could have given the lead to the world.

An emphasis on attack then could have been emulated everywhere.

But Ramsey's innate caution turned into an even more defensive attitude the 4-3-3 system being amended to 4-2-2.

By 1972 midway through the buildup to another World Cup, England were as difficult to beat as ever, but having to work desperately hard for every success.

And if any nation was to be copied it was Brazil and in the latter day Holland, with their genius for self-expression unfettered by rigid methodism.

Ramsey's tactical skill had helped to overcome a serious deficiency in pace throughout his playing career as a full-back with Southampton and Spurs.

He atoned by his positional play and superb use of the ball so that, although he was the slowest player in the Tottenham team, he was one of the most important.

He had an enormous say in their "push and run" team which won the championships of the second and first divisions in successive seasons. (1949-51) and was worth every one of his 32 caps.

Ramsey would probably scoff at the offer of the Australian job and would probably not be prepared to leave his beloved England.

Of course maybe this would be just as well, for it seems no way that Australian Soccer in its present stage of chaos is ready for a man with the reputation of Sir Alf!

By OSCAR BROWN

Could this be a Soccerroo scene of the future?, as a flashback shows former English team manager, Sir Alf Ramsey, the team through its paces before an important match.

Atti Abonyi (with cake) celebrating a birthday with his Soccerroo mates (l to r) Adrian Alston, George Harris, Max Tolson, Jim Mackay and Ray Baartz. Abonyi had another birthday on Wednesday when he scored four against Adamstown Rosebuds in the Rothmans Cup.

MAJOR SEMI-FINALS

Hakoah-Eastern Suburbs 2 (Barnes 2) d Apia Leichhardt 1 (Rooney) at Sydney Sports ground. Crowd: 5435.

Striker Murray Barnes put all his experience with Leeds United to good use in piloting Hakoah-Eastern Suburbs to a 2-1 semi-final win over Apia-Leichhardt at Sydney Sports ground on Sunday.

Coming on in the 79th minute after playing a gruelling reserve grade match, Barnes netted twice in a game that lasted 120 minutes after the teams were locked at 1-all at fulltime.

The 1974 premiers Hakoah now face up to their sixth Grand Final since their first appearance in the championship series in 1961, their only defeat being in last year's clash with Marconi-Fairfield.

Barnes' first goal came five minutes after he had taken over as striker from Jim Magill.

His deflection caused the ball to spin from the fingers of Apia goalkeeper John Roberts and into the net.

His second goal in the 111th minute resulted from a first class shot. He steered the ball a metre inside the far post for a winner all the way.

Barnes who had a spell with Leeds as a junior, brought much needed punch to the Hakoah attack and certainly earned a place in his side's Grand Final team.

Hakoah's domination came with the appearance of second half replacements Kevin Mullen and Barnes.

They started to feed the wings giving the dynamic little Joe Watson a chance to sparkle. At the same time, Apia defenders Bob McGinn and Ken Jenkins began to fade and Hakoah got right on top.

At fulltime, Apia coach Tom Anderson brought on Vic Dal Forno and Malcolm Clarke for the injured Peter Ollerton and veteran George Blues.

Unluckily, for Apia, the move misfired although Dal Forno went very close towards the end.

Manly v Balgownie.

Manly resisted furious attacks by Balgownie in the last ten minutes to score a 1-0 victory in the Second Division final at Garside Park on Sunday.

Balgownie star midfielder, Hugh Tinney was out with an ankle injury and the team could not find the gaps to score despite midfield domination.

They stormed the Manly goal in the initial ten minutes forcing several corners but could not sustain the pressure.

In the 14th minute Manly goalkeeper Clarke Woods saved a tremendous shot from Balgownie centre-forward Wayne Ronald.

Steve Gosling, the Manly winger, was unlucky not to open the score in the 23rd minute when his shot towards an unguarded net was cleared off the line by full-back John Crocker.

However, a minute later Manly were one goal up when midfielder Ken Mallam found the net with an angled drive from the edge of the penalty area.

Five minutes after the interval Manly could have gone further ahead, but for a brilliant save by Balgownie goalkeeper Phil Lusk.

Young striker, Ruli Roozendaal dribbled past two defenders but kicked straight to the goalkeeper.

Balgownie towards the end launched attack after attack to get the equaliser but the Manly defence held out.

1974 ROTHMANS STATE CUP

Just what has happened to soccer in Northern NSW, the traditional home of the code in Australia?

This question must be asked after St George's 9-11 defeat of Adamstown Rosebuds in the 7th round of the $6000-Rothmans Cup last Wednesday night.

Old-timers constantly talk about the great players and teams from the northern coal fields, recalling that, not too many years ago, Newcastle sides were always a match for the best in Sydney.

Now it seems that Newcastle teams have slipped way behind their Sydney counterparts and some drastic rethinking is needed up in Newcastle to bring their game in line with that of their big brothers in Sydney.

The feature of Wednesday night's double headers played at the Sydney Sports Ground and at Garside Park, Granville was the four goals by Soccerroo Atti Abonyi for St George against Adamstown.

Abonyi ran riot and his skill and speed were something that the Newcastle team had no answer to.

Reports on Wednesday's game —

ST GEORGE 9 d ADAMSTOWN ROSEBUDS 1 at the Sydney Sports Ground.

This complete annihilation of the Novocastrians was highlighted by the four goals from Atti Abonyi and another three from his fellow striker Terry Smith.

The Newcastle team although opening the scoring by a fine goal from their striker Graham Bull had no chance from the outset.

They were at least three yards slower in speed and thought than the Saints who redeemed themselves after their poor showing against Wests in the championship semi-final last Sunday.

With player-coach John Warren reinstated back to the Saints midfield the Saints called all the shots and won as they liked.

Scorers — Saints — Abonyi 4, Smith 3, Morgan, Warren, Adamstown Rosebuds — Bull.

Best Players — Saints — John McDonald, Willie Hamilton, Harry Williams. Adamstown Rosebuds — Graham Bull, Denis Wright.

HAKOAH 3 d MARCONI 0 at the Sydney Sports Ground.

Although the Sydney premiers won this game very comfortably they at no time produced the brilliant football that they are capable of.

Much of their game was played in patches and if the young Marconi outfit had been able to take the easiest of chances that popped up the result may have been different.

Marconi's display highlighted just why they have been in trouble all season.

The blend that makes good teams is missing and many of their experienced players are playing well within themselves and leaving the youngsters to do all the work.

A sad note for Hakoah on this occasion was that they lost their brilliant striker Joe Fletcher with a badly pulled hamstring muscle.

Scorers — Hakoah — Fletcher, Morrow, Munis.

Best Players — Hakoah — Jim Mackay, John Watkiss, Tom Morrow. Marconi — Bill Murray, Billy Sinclair, Stuart Robertson.

AUBURN 3 d SUTHERLAND 0 at Garside Park, Granville.

Auburn produced another of their surprises when they easily disposed of Sutherland in a game that was marred by miskicks and bad passing.

At the start Sutherland looked as if they were going to run away with the game and Auburn looked a disjointed lot.

However livewire striker Dave Keddie grabbed half a chance to put Auburn ahead and from that minute onward Sutherland burst like a paper bag and never had a look in.

Scorers — Auburn — Keddie, Gibson, Bennett o.g.

Best Players — Auburn — Dave Keddie, Frank Malone, Alan Gibson. Sutherland — Col Bennett, Alan Maher.

BALGOWNIE 2 d CANTERBURY 1 at Garside Park, Granville.

Second Division minnows Balgownie shocked Canterbury when they came from behind to score a very creditable win.

The Berries went ahead when Peter Mullen scored early on but Balgownie fought back with great determination.

Play got very rugged and rough midway through the second half and Balgownie were reduced to 10 men when they had Steve Langford sent off.

But this did not deter them and they grabbed two goals to take them merrily into the next round.

Scorers — Balgownie — Luck, Ronald. Canterbury — Mullen.

Best Players — Balgownie — Rodney Luck, Way Ronald. Canterbury — Peter Muller, Joe Whitehead.

All the winners of this round pocket $500 in prize money and move into the quarter-finals.

THIS WEEK'S 7TH ROUND GAMES — WEDNESDAY

WESTS v NEW LAMBTON at the Sydney Sports Ground.

PAN HELLENIC v SAFEWAY at the Sydney Sports Ground.

APIA v GUILDFORD at Garside Park, Granville.

CROATIA v YUGALPRAGUE at Garside Park, Granville.

SOCCER POOLS ARE COMING !

The big names in Sydney soccer are retiring thick and fast and the latest to announce his retirement at the end of the current season is Apia's brilliant veteran winger Georgie Blues.

On the eve of his club's major semi-final clash with Hakoah at the Sydney Sports Ground last Sunday, Blues announced he would hang up his boots at the end of the season.

Following Manfred Schaefer's announcement last week that he was on his last roundup Blues announcement comes as a shock and he will be missed from the Sydney scene.

However before Blues made his announcement he had obviously talked the matter over thoroughly with his Apia boss Tommy Anderson.

With the result being that Blues will be seconded on to Anderson's coaching panel at the Apia club next year.

His experience will be valuable to the Apia youngsters and under the shrewd guidance of Anderson, Blues should develop into a useful coach.

The evergreen winger, however, hopes to end his playing career on a high note and in the same manner which marked his first season with Apia in 1969, by winning the Sydney club championship.

"I think that the chances are great," Blues said before he trooped on to the field against Hakoah on Sunday.

"We have a great side here at Apia and under the guidance of Tommy Anderson, this team has only started on its way to great heights."

During Apia's success this season, Blues has been one of the team's trump cards.

He has been the man who passed the ammunition to Apia's blockbusting strikers Peter Ollerton and Billy Rogers.

Only 5ft 6in, Blues, as many a rival has found to his cost, is always liable to produce an explosive match-winning burst.

Few wingers in Sydney can cross a ball with such deadly accuracy either on the move, from a free kick or a corner and his uncanny switching with team-mate Terry Butler has baffled the best of defences.

But after 17 years at the top, Blues 34, has decided to call it quits.

"I could possibly play for another season, but it's a young man's game and after talks with the boss, Tommy Anderson, I have decided to call it a day while I am still at the top," he said.

Consistency, both in his choice of clubs and on the field of play has been the keynote of Scottish-born Blues career.

A Scottish youth international, Blues was also a member of the Australian team of the successful World tour in 1970, playing in all but two of the 15 matches.

But in his long career he has played for a number of well chosen clubs.

Blues joined Scottish First Division club Falkirk as a 16 year old then moved on to Berwick Rangers before going to South Africa where he played for Germiston Callies and Durban Spurs. After five years in the South African National League, he was recommended to Apia by Vernon Wentzel and arrived in Australia at the start of the 1969 season.

With Blues living up to his reputation Apia went on to beat St George 3-2 in the championship Grand Final.

An interesting factor is that his present Apia boss Tommy Anderson played in the defeated St George team that day!

Blues seemed set for a long international career after being selected for the Australian team, the following year.

However, a severe groin injury in 1971 kept him out of action for most of the 1972 season.

Blues' retirement now means a new career in coaching for him and his new association on the coaching panel at Apia should bear as much fruit off the field as it did on.

By JACK DANIELS

George Blues receiving his medal after winning the Rothmans award in 1971. On the left is former NSW President Frank Parsons.

AFTER a number of years in the wilderness APIA are back on top and are without doubt the leading club in Sydney and Australia.

The glory days of the early sixties are back with a bang at Leichhardt as the team goes striding forth to success after success.

The new re-incarnation of Apia has come about by two things — the first is that the Apia club President Big Jim Bayutti scrapped the Soccer club committee and the club has taken control of the Soccer once again.

The second that as President Bayutti appointed Tom Anderson as manager/coach to run all the Soccer affairs.

This combination has worked wonders and has shown just what can be done in soccer with some positive and professional thinking.

When this happened many people shook their heads in disbelief.

They stated that in no way could both Bayutti and Anderson agree as they are both forthright and at times explosive characters.

But oh how wrong the critics have been proved and this partnership has proved to be one of the most fruitful and most successful ever in Sydney Soccer.

Bayutti has left Anderson to stand or fall by his own decisions and Anderson has kept well out of all football politics.

This works very well and was even boosted when former player George Keith was made club secretary.

Soon after Anderson took over the team duties, he dropped Keith from the first team and said in as many words that as far as he was concerned he was not in his future plans as a player.

However he was much in the plans of the club and Bayutti who was well aware of Keith's fine administration skills.

Now this combination is supreme and Apia are run as a thorough professional club.

The plush social club under the wary eye of President Bayutti is booming with the membership now at 13,000.

The many restaurants, entertainments and amenities for the members are the best in Sydney and this will be even bettered in the coming year.

Under Anderson the team has been completely rebuilt, mainly with Victorians of whom Anderson has a high regard.

Despite his great success this year, Anderson is going to have a complete clear out and will reduce his present playing staff of 36 to a small total of 15.

New players will be signed and already this Scot is looking towards Victoria for a replacement or two.

He will also reconstruct the coaching panel at the club and a Junior director of coaching will be appointed in a month or so.

This paid Junior director will have a number of junior coaches working under him in a uniformed fashion to comb out and find and coach the best youngsters in the Leichhardt area to try and produce stars of the future.

He will also have two senior coaches working under him with himself controlling the panel as well as coaching the first team.

With Keith looking after the administration in his own expert manner and the man at the top Big Jim Bayutti presiding over it all Apia's future is guaranteed.

By their professional approach Apia have shown the way to all clubs in Australia.

And if Soccer is to really become the big-time game it is overseas, every other club in Australia should follow Apia's great example.

By JACK DANIELS

George Keith, the live-wire secretary in Apia's new-look professional set-up.

West Germany's defender Berti Vogts (right) voted by Socceroo Noddy Alston as the best defender he has ever played against.

WITH Hakoah firmly placed in this year's Grand Final Apia and St George now fight it out at the Sports Ground on Sunday for the right to meet them.

The big question is — Can Apia lick their wounds and pull themselves off the ground and come back fighting.

After dominating the game against Hakoah last week for more than 80 minutes they were completely shattered when Hakoah came back and won the game in extra time.

They also have a Rothmans Cup game against second division Guildford on Wednesday night on their heavy programme before they meet the Saints.

After such a moral deflating time Apia must go into this game as the underdogs.

For the Saints with their tails held high in the air and with Atti Abonyi and John Warren in such a dominating mood could really knock over the battered and bruised Leichhardt side. Apia have both Peter Ollerton and George Blues on the injured list and this could prove fatal.

They have also a big goalkeeping problem with both their senior keepers John Kennedy and John Roberts having lost their confidence and throwing balls into the back of the net.

It will come as no surprise if Apia boss Tom Anderson does not take the biggest gamble of his life and bring back David McGuire to the goalkeeping spot.

McGuire who broke his arm in a pre-season friendly against Mel-

WHAT do the flies do in the winter time — or what's more to the point what do the leading Sydney Soccer coaches do in the summer time?

Well as far as top coaches Tom Anderson of Apia, David McLaren of Hakoah and Rale Rasic of Pan Hellenic are concerned it's a case of packing their suitcases and off overseas to brush up their knowledge.

With his team unable to make the top four Rasic has already gone with his wife and Socceroo Ray Richards to spend time in Spain and Yugoslavia, as we reported a couple of weeks ago.

Hakoah's David McLaren is off at the end of October to Scotland and England where he will spend two months soaking in the atmosphere and learning the new methods.

It's two years since McLaren was over there and he is of the opinion that a coach must not be away from the top professional scene for longer than this if he is to keep in touch with the modern ideas.

During his stay over in Britain McLaren will visit his former club Wolverhampton Wanderers and Aston Villa where his brother Roy is coach.

Anderson will be off to Italy where he will spend time with top Italian clubs Juventus, Roma and Milan.

Having spent three months working at the SYDNEY'S favourite Soccer son "Noddy" Alston has settled in well with English first division club Luton Town since joining them a few months ago.

Noddy has gained a permanent place in the Luton first team and scored the goal that gave his team a midweek victory over Bristol Rovers in the League Cup.

In a letter to a Sydney friend this week Alston said that he and his wife and family were happily settled in Luton and he was enjoying himself as a full-time professional.

However, he stated that the pace and quickness of thought and the hardness of the tackle were features of the English play that had taken some getting used to.

"You just have not got the time to dwell on the ball or turn with it, as you do in Sydney," Alston wrote.

"Your whole thinking and actions have to be speeded up and geared up to the game here."

"This takes a bit of getting used to at the beginning but I think that I have coped with it now."

"Everything else has just been great and I enjoy the life of a full-time professional."

"This is what I have always wanted to do and I just enjoy the life and the football."

Alston will definitely be available for Australia's World Cup participation and still regards himself as an Aussie.

His experience in England will prove an outstanding asset in Australia's quest for a place in the finals in Argentina.

His success in England makes one think just bourne Juventus has never played this season.

However the position for Apia is desperation stakes and McGuire will probably be brought back into the picture.

If Saints get an early goal they will win as Apia will be shellshocked after all the bad luck that has befallen them in recent weeks.

Likely teams — SAINTS; Jim Fraser, George Harris, Manfred Schaefer, Doug Utjesenovic, Harry Williams, John Warren, Willie Hamilton, Brendan Grosse; Atti Abonyi, Neville Morgan, John Stoddard.

APIA — Dave McGuire, Bobby McGinn, John McGhee, John Russell, Kenny Jenkins, John Wallace, Jimmy Rooney, Billy Rogers; George Blues, Peter Ollerton, Terry Butler.

ian first division football is one of the best competitions in the world.

These three men have proved this season to be out on their own as far as coaching is concerned and their thirst for knowledge will no doubt benefit their clubs and Australian football.

They will all be back in Sydney to start their pre-season training before the end of the year.

what talent there is available in Australia and how a number of the other Socceroos would fare over there.

For example Peter Ollerton always a much better goalscorer than Alston and a more dangerous striker, must surely be a natural for the English scene.

Midfielder Jimmy Rooney and defender Col Curran, two players with great skill and ability would also be two naturals.

And as for Socceroo skipper Peter Wilson, well he proved in Germany that he could perform well in any team in the world at any level.

An interesting item to note from Alston is that despite the undoubted class of defenders he is playing against in England, he still rates the West German fullback Berti Vogts as the best defender he has played against so far.

Vogts, of course, was one of West Germany's stars in their capture of the World Cup in Munich in July.

To Alston, all of his Sydney friends and fans with him the best of luck in his new English career and on behalf of all in Australian football all that can be said is — "Haste Ye Back"!

SOCCER GOSSIP

TONY CHARLTON, compere of GTV9's Live Soccer, would like more co-operation from soccer clubs and the VSF with his weekly telecasts of State League games. We think he deserves it, Remember the big send off GTV9 received when they launched their first live State League soccer match from Olympic park? There were about 4,000 juniors present on that day. Why can't we see more of this.

Last Saturday the Doveton and Seaford juniors did their bit during half time. Why not a few more junior supporters at these shows? Is it asking too much?

MIKE MICEVSKI, the Hakoah St Kilda striker, is to be congratulated on finding his shooting boots at long last. He must feel proud to have found the net for the first time in months at Footscray Road on Saturday.

He must feel even more proud that Hakoah beat George Cross 2-1 and that he scored one of the winning goals. His fine play and performance has given courage to the team and the club committee who were beginning to feel depressed with so many defeats and near misses in recent weeks. Even coach Sam Meyer is smiling again!

The defeat came as a big shock to George Cross but top scorer Paul Murphy managed to bang one in and join Jim Armstrong (Hellas) on 17 goals at the top of the goalscorers' list with a chance of the $1000 Courage Breweries prize for our No 1 scorer this season.

FRANK DONACHIE, Fitzroy United Alexander striker, has been worth his weight in gold to the club since he joined them early this season. He's netted 14 goals for the club and his brilliant hat-trick on Sunday against Keilor puts him within a goal or two of the leaders for the Courage $1000 top scorer award. Can he improve enough during the last two games to have a chance of taking out the big prize?

BIG GAME in Scotland last week finished with another victory for Rangers when they beat Celtic 2-1 in Scottish Division One.

JUVENTUS FANS were thrilled to see their star forward Billy Vojtek score the equaliser against Mooroolbark at Olympic Park on Sunday. It was Billy's second goal since he joined the club from Croatia club in Sydney.

What a pity his team mates couldn't go on with the job and win. Mooroolbark won the game because they controlled the ball better on the heavy ground and their astute player coach Brian Edgeley headed home the winner.

BRISTOL ROVERS hope to get Newcastle midfielder man Tommy Gibb this week. The player has arranged to meet them to discuss terms. And Bristol City are set to make a $60,000 bid for Oxford's listed striker Hugh Curran.

MIKE O'HARA, Slavia's goal keeper, had no hope in saving the "banana shot" of Greek superstar Ulysses Kokkinos when he took the free kick from 35 metres out.

The cocky Kokkinos saw an opening in the wall of Slavia defenders and sliced the ball through it watching it curve into the corner of the net. Kokkinos' second goal was more difficult. The superstar beat a defender spun round on the ball and drew O'Hara out of his net. Then calmly, using his head, he out thought the keeper by lobbing the ball over his head into the net. It was Kokkinos' brilliance which won the game for Hellas and put them in the "box seat" for this year's championship.

BOBBY KENT, George Train and Ian Humble couldn't break through the strong wall of Hellas led by Johnny Bedford and Johnny Daperis. The South Melbourne side played more like a championship team Saturday obviously aware of their position on the ladder.

HOW MANY soccer fans knew the "Irishman" Mike O'Hara who keeps goal for Slavia is really a German. He was born in Cologne, West Germany on September 2, 1950.

FORMER WILHELMINA junior Alan Pongho scored a great goal from a Mike Sinclair cross when he headed the ball past goalie Mike Harby (Juventus) at Olympic Park on Sunday.

IT LOOKS as if the Australian Soccer Federation have made their biggest booboo since they came into power. Last weekend news came from Teheran that we had not gained admission to the Asian Soccer Confederation. We were out-voted 14-5 and are now left alone in Asia with no true competition.

Earlier Sir Arthur George ASF President decided to quit Oceania and try our luck in Asia. He thought we would get better competition in the Pacific, but what happens now? The Asians don't want us, nor does New Zealand, New Caledonia or Tahiti.

So, where do we go from here? We hope Sir Arthur on his long flight back to Sydney this week will come up with a trump card.

VICTORIANS for the first time on Sunday were shown how to fill in a soccer coupon. The demonstration was given on HSV7's World of Sport by none other than the boss of the Australian Soccer Pools company, Mr Robert Nesfield.

He certainly knew what he was talking about. He had served a long apprenticeship with the big English company of Vernons as overseas manager before being promoted to General Manager of the Australian company.

He told viewers they could win $450,000 for as little as a 40c investment.

At the end of his brief session footy's funny man Lou Richards presented him with a Magnum of champagne, a razor and a book on the Melbourne Cup. Mr Nesfield said afterwards he would open the bubbly on the day he launched the pools in Victoria — October 26.

A COMBINED team of South Melbourne Hellas and Alexander will play Pan Hellenic of Sydney at Middle Park on Show Day, Thursday, 26th September, 3 p.m.

The curtain raiser will be between old players of Hellas and Alexander. All proceeds will go to the Cypriot Refugees Fund.

Mr Sam Papasavas, President of Hellas, organised the game. It is hoped that the captain of the Australian team Peter Wilson, Socceroos Ray Richards and Jim Rooney will play.

KNOX KNOTS By FRÉD FAIRBURN MUD MARS MATCHES

More than 60 parents and juniors of Boronia Soccer Club turned up at Tormore Road for the friendly matches arranged for 11 a.m. last Sunday.

As the soccer pitch had been made unplayable by the previous two days rain the intended visitors, South Dandenong, had been informed of the event's postponement.

Arrangements are now to play the series at South Dandenong next Sunday provided the weather is fine. All to meet at the Boronia High School Community Library Car Park at 11 a.m. says Secretary, Tom Murphy (Tel. 762-4884).

ALTERNATIVE ACTIVITY

Though the matches could not take place lively practice was the order for two hours on another section of the school grounds where the heaviest downpours never seriously affect playing conditions.

Bright sunshine enabled coaches Brian Gravatt and Ken Landman to put in some effective training for the youngsters who soon began casting off surplus clothing.

Gathered parents transacted organisational business and officials did a little surveying and measuring work on the soccer pitch preparing for its restructuring.

FURTHER FILMS

Another Film Night is to be held in Room 13 at the High School on Thursday, October 3rd. Titles not yet available but there will be no training that evening.

Tuesday and Thursday training now commences at 4.45 p.m. as the evenings become lighter.

ALTONA AHOY! Altona Soccer Club are hosting Boronia S.C. in friendlies on Sunday, September 29 at 1 p.m. for the Seniors and 11 to 14 age group. If enough people show desire to travel in comfort by

ACCORDING TO VSF Secretary, Mr George Wallace, our soccer public has "grown up". He was referring to the incident at Olympic Park when a spectator jumped the fence and flattened referee Jim Dixon. According to Mr Wallace the public behaved very well by not running on to the ground and causing a riot.

It was interesting to see that the culprit was fined $100 in the civil court, and this should act as a warning to anyone else who contemplated taking on our whistle men who do an excellent job under difficult circumstances on our soccer grounds every week.

It was also pleasing to see that the tribunal did not punish the two clubs involved, Alexander and George Cross.

TONY CHARLTON tells us that the Amateur Athletics set up in Victoria has a new look. They have arranged for Bob Morrow who won three gold medals at the 1956 games to be their guest of honour in the Great Hall of the National Gallery on October 10. Guests will include Shirley Strickland, John Landy, Merv Lincoln "golden girl" Betty Cuthbert and Ron Clarke.

FRANK WEIMPER GTV9 commentator was the first to speak to Jim Tansey, Slavia defender, when he had to be carried off the ground at Middle Park with a leg injury on Saturday. Frank said Jim had pulled his hamstring muscle and it would be at least two weeks before he would play again.

FRANKSTON

Three more members of the Frankston and Peninsula Junior Soccer Coaches' Association.

JIM FERRIS, Frankston Pines Under 14 coach.

Jim was born in Belfast, where he played in local teams and has been in Australia 11 years. He completed the coaching course in 1972.

Jim can always be found helping in some capacity at Pines, whether it be coaching or managing a team, marking grounds or erecting nets.

Jim's son David, now with Melbourne's Under 14s, played with Pines juniors for 3 years.

SOCCER QUIZ

Answers to last week's quiz:-

- 1) The referee having given the signal, the game is started by a player taking a place kick at the centre spot, into his opponents half — every player in his own half and every player of opposing team not less than 10 yds from the ball — the ball is not in play until it has travelled the distance of its own circumference — the kicker shall not play the ball a second time until it has been touched by another player.
- 2) No goal! A new ball to be dropped at the place where the ball burst.
- 3) If a player commits an offence before the ball has touched the ground — the offender shall be cautioned or sent off and because the ball was not in play it shall be dropped again.
- 4) Retake the goal kick as the ball had not passed beyond the penalty area.

manager and coach respectively of Frankston Pines Under 11s.

Joe Skvor hails from Czechoslovakia and partly due to soccer, has settled happily in Australia.

He coached the 8 and 9 year olds at Pines prior to his present job with the Under 11s. He is an ardent Pines supporter, both senior and junior wise and a valued club member.

Joe and his partner, Joe Mirsch are well known as caterers at Frankston clubs. Joe's son, Michael is right wing with the Pines Under 13s.

Harry Leenstra, born in Friesland, Holland has been in Australia for 17 years. He started off following Frankston City as a supporter, then joined Pines 5 years ago.

He has given a lot of his time to the juniors of this club and is currently under 11 coach.

Harry is an official referee, having passed the course in 1973 and he can be called upon to ref or flag at any time.

His two sons Otto (Under 14) and Ronnie (Under 11) are talented Pines juniors.

THIS WEEK'S QUESTIONS

- 1) When does a referee add on time for that lost because of injury?
- 2) For what other reason can a referee add on time?
- 3) Under what conditions can a referee change his decision?
- 4) What is the minimum distance between touch line and penalty area?

SYDNEY SOCCER SCENE CONTINUED

Pan Hellenic and Hakoah will start their hard pre-season grind in mid December but Anderson will have Apia back in harness in mid November.

So if Rasic can pull Pan Hellenic into shape it looked as if the battle for next year's honours in Sydney or Australia will be between Apia, Hakoah and maybe Pan Hellenic.

SOCCER WEEK PREVIEW

by JOHN MARTIN

BIG GAME this weekend will be at Schintler Reserve where Footscray JUST will play George Cross on Sunday.

Can George Cross improve on last week's performance against Hakoah and produce the old killer touch their followers have been used to during the early part of the season.

I think they can and so too does their coach Ken Patterson. It needs a 100 percent effort from all the George Cross side. It's no good having Paul Murphy chasing every ball up front if the defenders are taking it easy in defence.

This game will be a real crowd pleaser. Footscray are determined to prove that they belong in the top four and they must win this to stay there.

JUST have come good at the right time. They've saved face with their supporters and Frank Micic is still the general of the side leading the way to goal.

We can expect plenty of action here. All Murphy's mates will be feeding him every ball when they get within shooting range of World Cup reserve goalie Jimmy Milisavljevic. They'll all want to see him bang a few more in the net to qualify for the $1000 top goalscorers award Courage Breweries have offered to the No. 1 sharpshooter.

Whoever takes the trouble to go to Footscray Road on Sunday they will be assured of a great game. But if it's wet they'll have to pay me to go there. I'll watch one of the games where there is a grandstand and some cover!

Slavia will be battling to beat Juventus at Olympic Park on Sunday especially after their poor performance against Hellas last week. They'll miss Jim Tansey their strong man in defence who has hamstring trouble. But Jim Train, Frank Campbell, Marshall McCullam and Steve McCombe can be relied upon to work for the full 90 minutes of the game.

Juventus coach Manny Poulakakis wasn't very happy last Sunday when his side crashed to Mooroolbark. This was one game he was hoping to win. He said so during the interval but the boys up the front let him down. They had their chances but didn't take advantage of them.

On Sunday Dino de Marchi and Billy Vojtek will have to play as a team not as individuals like they did last week. It will mean working the ball up one wing and crossing to the man who will eventually smash it into the net. Whether it is de Marchi or Vojtek it doesn't matter but there must be teamwork from the players in the front line.

Pat Della Rocca and Sandy Irvine did their job in the rearguard and they will do it again this week. Perhaps a little more support and a little more ball for David Gorrie could put Juventus in a commanding position against Slavia — an up and down team. It will be interesting to see what Slavia coach Johnny Sanchez and his assistant Kaz Kowalec plan for this game. It could finish in a draw but Slavia's stronger defence may be the telling factor in the end.

Don't underestimate Polonia in any game. They should be regarded as a serious threat to Sth Melbourne Hellas at Middle Park on Sunday. This is another game Hellas could lose — and this is another game they can't afford to take easy and coach Johnny Margaritis knows it.

If Peter Bourne returns after his groin injury, and he should, Hellas will be a much tougher outfit particularly with Ulysses Kokkinos playing at his best. If Polonia takes the lead where it will be an interesting game. And if Hellas lose this one they could be in serious trouble for the big championship title they've had their eyes on since the start of the season.

Perhaps the home ground advantage will tell but a word of warning to Hellas. If you don't watch your step the old fox, coach Mike de Bruyckere, will grab two points from you and he won't say sorry when it's all over!

Hakoah St Kilda will beat Keilor Austria at Middle Park on Saturday. Hakoah proved last week they can win games if they try and star striker Mike Micevski also proved that he too can score goals if he tries. On Saturday he and Mike Clarey can have a field day — just like old times. This is one game which is made for them. Hakoah to win by a street for my money!

Fitzroy United Alexander will gain more shooting practice on their home ground, Olympic Park, against Ringwood City, on Saturday. And I'm tipping here that Frank Donachie will go close to joint top scorers Jim Armstrong and Paul Murphy who have 17 goals each for the season. Frank is sitting on 14 — a great effort by a great forward.

Look for a top performance by Pat Bannon and brother Vince. Pat is in a fine position to win the car for the best player of the year award. He never puts a foot wrong.

Nick van Egmond will have his work cut out in Ringwood's goal and so too will Mike Pye who has to take the entire attack on his shoulders when the pressure is on. But in attack Phil Williamson, Gary Cole and Mike Lyn could cause panic with Alexander's defence if they relax. Ringwood are a much better side than their position on the ladder indicates.

This game is likely to produce good soccer. I would not like to forecast the result but on form Fitzroy should take the honours. Ringwood have tons of speed as they proved last week when they raced ahead against Polonia. Another effort like this on Saturday could put the opposition in the hot seat.

Fans of the Mooroolbark United team will get real value for money at Esther Park when they line up in front of Melbourne on Saturday. The Barkers did a good job against Juventus last week and although playing a much tougher side in Melbourne they should produce enough skills to make a game of it.

For Melbourne the man to beat will be Brian Edgley — as usual. He uses his head as we saw last week when he netted the winning goal by nodding it into the net.

Melbourne's strongman Joe Szabo with Alistair Scott will provide a strong wall while Joe Palinkas and young up and coming star Duncan Cummings will be the pair to beat in attack.

Melbourne know how to mix it and a top game will keep the Esther Park fans on their toes here. As for a winner — I'll go for Melbourne.

WEEKEND GOAL FEAST! By JOHN MARTIN
FIVE goals on Saturday and 16 on Sunday. That's 21 goals for the six State League games and that's what our top League sharpshooters served up for the fans last weekend.

Two games at Jubilee Park, Ringwood and Footscray Road, on Sunday produced 12 goals. Ringwood City drew 3-3 with Polonia in a thriller and Fitzroy United Alexander made soccer look easier when they humbled relegation team Keilor Austria 6-0.

At Jubilee Park, Ringwood raced away to a three-goal lead through Mike Pye, Mike Lyn and Gary Cole. But they couldn't maintain it. Polonia piled on the pressure in the second half and leveled the score through Peter Gray, Jan Jaworski and Eddie Marmur.

That "old fox" coach Mike deBruyckere, having spent some years with Ringwood City Wilhelmia as player and coach, knows the club's weaknesses. He instructed his boys how to go about wrecking the Ringwood defence in the second half and he succeeded. There is no doubt tactics played a great part in this match.

But all credit to Ringwood City. They have made a great improvement to their game in recent weeks and have now established themselves in eighth position in the league — quite a jump from their recent second from bottom place.

At Footscray Road, Alexander's star striker Frank Donachie ran riot with the weak Keilor defence. A hat-trick for him — one a penalty — meant that he was in the race for top goalscorer honors. He's now firmly placed in second place behind leaders Jim Armstrong (Hellas) and Paul Murphy (George Cross) both on 17 goals while Frank has 14.

The game was just a matter of shooting practice for Alexander. Their fans went wild with excitement as the goals were chalked up throughout the afternoon. George Gillan, Sam Cooke and Pat Bannon all helped make up the score for the visiting team.

Keilor proved they were outclassed and will have to recruit in a big way to hold their own in Metropolitan First Division next season. The competition in this league is going to be fierce and is expected to provide some interesting soccer for those who follow suburban league games.

We don't know what has happened to Juventus. They play good soccer but they can't finish. This was obvious on Sunday when Sandy Irvine and Pat Della Rocca did all expected of them in defence. Forwards Dino de Marchi and Billy Vojtek had the ball up front on many occasions but that's where it stopped.

Vojtek ran through with only the goalie to beat but failed to find the net in the second half. However, his equaliser in the first half gave the side hope.

Mooroolbark were more systematic. They took their chances with Alan Pongho setting an example early in the match. Brian Edgley, the ever reliable captain-coach of the side, produced the winner with a great header placing the ball out of reach in the corner of the net where Mike Harby had no chance of saving.

It was a big thrill for Hakoah St Kilda to see their Australian Under 23 star Mike Micevski score his first goal in 20 weeks for the club against George Cross on Saturday.

Hakoah's 2-1 win put George Cross out of the running for the title. It was the third season in a row that Hakoah have killed off all hopes George Cross had of taking out the championship. "Ponco" Donate scored the winner for Hakoah late in the game.

George Cross may not win the title this season but they have won the hearts of many new supporters with the bright, attractive and exciting soccer that have produced throughout 1974. Their players have always been good to watch. Coach Ken Patterson gets the best out of his boys and even if they have had their differences during the year — mainly money matters — the Courage club are sure to enlist much more support next season with players of the calibre of Paul Murphy, Frank Mifsud, Frank McArdle, Johnny Gardiner, Kevin Kelly, Norm Maitland and Alec McConville in their ranks.

Lions Under 12 A v JUST Coles Reserve.

JUST withstood heavy pressure from the Lions forwards from the start. The first goal coming from E. Matutini, overlapping on the right crossing it first time for J. Ignarro to chip it in over the JUST defence.

Four minutes after the second game, a well back heeled pass from C. Ratcliffe let in L. Lucchett to drive a left foot shot into the net.

Lions under 12's v Keilor Austria.

Lions Under 12's second game in two days was at Keilor Austria kicking against a strong wind and an all out attack by Keilor Austria, the Lions did well to go in nil-nil at half-time. Good goal keeping P. Waters.

The Lions were playing well and goals had to come. The first began with D. Redpath sending a long ball down the left for L. Lucchett to bend in a perfect cross to C. Ratcliffe who drove a 12 metre low shot into the net. Keilor Austria still with fighting spirit were finally downed by a J. Scrbarras header five minutes from the end.

A first class team effort by Lions Under 12 A, four points in two days.

DANDENONGS JUNIOR LEAGUE UNDER 8

Bayswater B 1 v Box Hill 1.

Bayswater U/8 "B" team's "home" game once more had to be played "away" owing to poor conditions at Guy Turner Reserve last Sat.

Playing at Wembley Park, Box Hill kicked off against a strong cold wind with occasional driving rain showers.

Against these odds Box Hill scored at the two minute mark to the surprise of everybody after a centre from the right corner.

This was about the last that Box Hill saw of Bayswater's penalty area and goalkeeper JOHN CONNELL had his easiest time for many a month.

Bayswater pressed the opposition goal to such an extent that at one period 8 corners were taken in a 4 minute period.

ANOTHER SURPRISE

Well into the second half against all expectations plus the weather Bayswater scored to make what was to be a final draw of 1-1.

ANDREW FAIRBURN worked the ball up the middle and shot in front of goal from the edge of the penalty area. Box Hill's goalie was unprepared as the ground skimmer hit one of his legs on the way through.

To everyone's astonishment the ball stopped dead in the mud on the goal line. Before the keeper could retreat 3 yards to recover it WARREN COOPER with great alertness and presence of mind dashed in and made certain of the equaliser.

FIRST GOAL

This was centre-half Warren's first goal of the season and credit goes to him as a great trier and tackler.

All the boys surpassed any of their previous efforts.

PETER SIMS stopped many a Box Hill forward move with astute tackling.

PETER ROBINSON

who carried on bravely with an injured arm persevered with his notable probing passes and JOHN MILLS manoeuvred cleverly.

Bayswater had been trounced 4-0 by their opponents earlier in the season.

A wonderful improvement considering that the Under 8 "B's" of Bayswater had only scored 11 goals all this year including friendlies. Broken down the tally reads: Andrew Fairburn 7, John Mills 3 and Warren Cooper 1.

ELTHAM S.C. MATCH REPORT 14/15 Sept. 1974

UNDER 14

Monbulk 1 v Eltham 1. Best for Eltham: Fred Vanderslik, Marcel Vandersilk, Alan Hadzic and Kevin Emsden.

FAWKNER 3 d CARLTON 1.

The postponed game of Provisional League between Fawknor and Carlton has been won by Fawknor 3-1.

Carlton put up a good show in the first half, but in the second half, Fawknor came back very strong and dominated the game. The goals for Fawknor were scored by John Pater, Tony Mainenti and Minnala. Mainenti scored his 25th goal of the season.

Thanks to this win, Fawknor clings to third place in the ladder with 32 points, surpassing Werribee with a better goal average.

Korlevic and Marcello D'Amico have done good work this season, especially with young players like Franin and Schipano. We hope things will go even better next year.

UNDER 13A v BRIGHTON (Friendly)

Result Moreland Meadows 1, Brighton 2.

We welcomed Brighton to Moreland for the first time. This was a friendly match and the game was played in that atmosphere with neither side prepared to take things too seriously. The strong wind and pitch were against any team playing good soccer.

However, the lads put together an entertaining game and the result was a fair one. All three goals were the result of a good build-up and were really well finished. The Moreland 'keeper also saved a penalty, his third this season. Good on you Steve.

UNDER 13B

v A FAWKNER 11

This was a friendly match against a non-league team coached by A. DICANDIA comprising boys of all ages.

Despite the windy conditions both teams gave us an entertaining game. The result, a draw — one goal each, was a fair reward. We wish the Fawknor boys well in the league next season.

Scorer for Moreland — S. Maltizos.

MORELAND v ALBERT LEANEY'S TEAM

A combined Moreland team played a friendly game against a team of all ages, shapes and sizes. Because of the wide range of ages in both teams it was not expected to produce more than an interesting game.

However, we were surprised by the determined hard play by Albert's boys and they well deserved their 3-1 victory. These lads train on Sunday afternoons and have had little match experience — well done boys! and Albert.

Best players for the opposition — E. Yurdu-sever, D. Muzaffer, C. Aslan.

NEW FALCON

One drive tells you

it's the Great Australian Road Car

Ford forges further ahead with New Falcon now built bolder, sleeker, stronger than it's ever been built before.

Ford stylists and engineers have gone over Falcon with a fine tooth-comb, making literally hundreds of engineering modifications and improvements.

Like every Falcon before it, new Falcon has been designed for a country as challenging as Australia.

Engineered to take any type of terrain in its powerful stride. Still with Ford's rugged, and exclusive, Torque-Box chassis. Still with the widest track and lowest centre of gravity for the surest, most road-hugging ride of any car in its class.

We invite you to test drive New Falcon — The Great Australian Road Car — today!

JUNIOR LEAGUE CONTINUED

MOOROOLBARK JUNIORS REPORT. Week Ending 14-15/9/74.

MOOROOLBARK under 14's played brilliant soccer at times to hand out the first defeat of the season to Nunawading.

When Nunawading, playing against a very strong wind in the first half, took an early lead it looked likely to be just another win for the Nunawading boys.

However, the Barkers struck back quickly with two great goals by Geoff Ireson to establish a 2-1 lead at half-time. This proved sufficient as both teams failed to score in the second half.

The Under 8's were most unlucky not to do better than draw 0-0 against Doncaster B. As were the Under 10's who also drew 0-0 against Nunawading B on Saturday.

However, on Sunday, the Under 10's made up for it by defeating Croydon 3-0; Scorers were Guy Bakker, Ian Harper, Martin Camp.

The Under 12's lost 4-0 to Doncaster.

The Under 16's had a walkover against Juventus who failed to appear.

There is also plenty happening off the field in the Barkers' territory. During the school holidays the film "Soccer - The Universal Ball Game" was shown on three nights to over 300 people at the St. Patricks School, Lilydale. All proceeds, which included a soccer ball, went to the school.

On Sunday 13th October, the annual presentation barbecue will be held at Wandin East Recreation Reserve. And for the "grown ups" the end of season dance at the Kilsyth Hall on Saturday 26th October.

Under 10 Moreland 2 v Greensborough 0.

Moreland started strong but can only blame themselves for not being well ahead in the first ten minutes, but credit must also be given to the Greensborough keeper for a fine display. However Raymond Zahra finally put Moreland in front at the 10th minute.

But Greensborough fought back gamely and in the 17th caught Moreland's defence off guard and their drive just tipped the top of the cross bar.

After the interval Moreland attacked immediately and were put 2 goals ahead at the 5th minute mark by L. Leaney.

Best for Moreland Len Leaney, Steve Palmer.

UNDER 15 v COACHES-MANAGERS-COMMITTEE.

A vigorous, hard fought game by both teams which kept the spectators on their toes and rendered the referee exhausted. A game in which no favours were asked or given, with both teams determined to win.

The "oldies" combined well as a team with a good display of understanding and cooperation between players, calling for the ball and using the open spaces to create attacks.

The Under 15 team were fast and penetrating in their attacks, outstripping their opposition in pace, but good defensive play and good goalkeeping kept them to only one goal.

The "oldies" eventually won the game by 2 goals (including a penalty) to one.

We feel that the Under 15s could have won this match if they had realised fully just how exhausted were their opposition towards the closing stages and had applied more pressure.

A good sporting game, and if it's any consolation, lads, there were many pairs of very sore legs and feet after the game.

UNDER 10 v UNDER 11.

A friendly game between two teams each comprised of Under 10s and 11s and including boys who do not get regular games in League competition.

Credit must be given to the boys of each team (and their coaches) for, considering they had not played together as teams before today, they settled down quickly and combined well in defence and in constructive attack.

Both defences played well and a scoreless draw was a very fair result.

Best Players - Whites: R. Cortese, R. Zahra, C. Shiangolis. Blues: R. Vogal, T. Sciacovelli, C. Polita.

Preston spearhead Ian Reid (8) watches with interest as teammate Vlado Kotevski jumps and gasps as he collects the ball in a rather painful manner.
